Strychnine-Laden Meat Is Discovered In Dog's Mouth 'Poisoning Area'

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

Police Tuesday reported an attempted dog poisoning that failed when the dog's mistress snatched a strychnine-laden piece of meat from the dog's mouth.

The dog, a three-month-old Dachshund, was chained behind the home of its owner, John M. Roberts, at 1544 Nemaha. Roberts, an instructor in anthropology at the University of Nebraska, said his daughter, Tania, 10, had taken the meat from the dog and told her mother about finding it.

Mrs. Roberts contacted police who took the meat to the State Department of Agriculture where it was analyzed in the Division of Dairy Products. C. A. Metzger reported the finding of strychnine in the meat.

Mrs. Roberts told police the scare thrown into the neighborhood because of the previous poisoning of a neighbor's dog had made her and her daughter cautious about anything found in the area of where the dog was chained.

Only last week, Timmy, a black and tan toy Manchester belonging to Gary Tucker, 12, of 1536 Nemaha, was poisoned with strychnine and died of resulting convulsions.

Police, who have been scouring the neighborhoods in southeast Lincoln for possible clues on the dog-poisoner, expressed fears that children might get the meat morsels with their fatal dose of strychnine.

A reward of $500 has been offered by the Cornhusker Kennel Club and the Humane Society for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the poisoner.

Tax Cuts 'Just What Doc Ordered' For Consumers

Retailers, Wholesalers Agree—Business Will Be Stimulated

NEW YORK (AP)—"No doubt about it: these tax cuts will pep up retail sales."

"Just what the doctor ordered."

That's how manufacturers and merchants reacted to the news that Congress had agreed on a bill slashing federal excise taxes on a wide range of merchandise ranging from jewelry, cameras and furs to refrigerators and kitchen garbage disposers.

General Electric Co., one of the world's biggest manufacturers of the home appliances on which taxes now are to be cut from 10 to 5 per cent, said it was passing the reduction on to consumers "and we're very happy to do so."

The National Retail Dry Goods Assn. noted that it has been fighting excise taxes for years. The NRDA said it is preparing a 7-page bulletin explaining the legal ramifications of the new bill for its more than 7,000 member stores.

Opinion in New York retail circles was divided on just how big an effect the tax reductions would have on business, but it was generally agreed that the cuts would help.

"Psychological"

A New York appliance wholesaler said the impact is likely to be "more psychological than actual."

"Fifteen bucks off the price of a $300 refrigerator isn't a heck of a lot," he said. "But smart merchandisers will make it look like a terrific reduction, and the ballroom will bring customers into the store. That alone will be good for business."

Besides pepping up sales, the chance to a lower tax rate structure will pose certain complications.

The man who signed an installment contract for a $250 automatic washing machine a month ago will be billed at the full rate for the first month, but will get the benefit of the tax cut for the payments he makes after April 1. Similar adjustments will be made for customers who have been paying for fur coats or refrigerators in advance under the so-called "lay away plan."

The merchant is compelled to pass the tax saving on to the installment purchaser, retail sources point out, because failure to do so would be tantamount to boosting the price above that stipulated in the installment contract.

Playgoers To Benefit

NEW YORK (AP)—Broadway producers, surprised at Congress' sudden action, generally agreed that a cut in the tax on stage show tickets will be passed on to playgoers.

A check with spokesmen for hit shows with well over two million dollars of tickets sold mouths ahead, brought a wide variety of opinions and comment on how the highly complicated legitimate theatre business will shift over to a 10 per cent tax on tickets after 11 years of collecting a 20 per cent levy.

"The biggest headache around Broadway for the next month won't be selling tickets but trying to figure out what to do about refunds," said one harried agent.

Some segments of the entertainment industry, especially motion pictures, previously have said that if taxes were cut they would keep the difference in order to compensate for increasing costs.

Housing Chances Take Dip

Further Construction Jeopardized By House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Further public housing construction was jeopardized when the House dropped from an appropriation bill a provision for building 20,000 units in the 12 months beginning July 1.

The program, for which President Eisenhower made an appeal to Congress last January, could be revived in separate legislation later in the week, but its chances are none too bright.

An objection by Rep. Smith (D-Va.) struck from a 5½ billion dollar omnibus appropriation bill language that would have permitted the 20,000 units to be built.

Smith's maneuver was not subject to a vote, since his objection was based on the technicality that continuation of the housing program could not be authorized in an appropriation bill. House rules prohibit such an authorization.

No Alternative

Rep. Graham (R-Pa.), presiding at the time, had no alternative but to uphold Smith. Congress last year ordered an end to new public housing starts.

Another bill, authorizing an overall housing program but containing no public housing clause, is scheduled for House consideration Wednesday. An amendment to include a public provision would be permissible.

The $5½ billion appropriation bill is to finance the Public Housing Administration, the Veterans Administration, the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA), the Atomic Energy Commission and more than a dozen other agencies.

The Appropriations Committee wrote in the public housing clause which Smith's objection removed.

Slum Clearance

President Eisenhower had proposed that 35,000 new units be built annually over a four-year period.

The Appropriations Committee recommended that the entire program be ended in two years, with 20,000 units next year and 15,000 the following year.

After the public housing clause was knocked out, the House approved $30 million for slum clearance.

Public housing advocates argued that without the new housing units, people removed from slums would have no place to live because they couldn't afford private housing.

'Mechanization Endangering Creative Ability'—Gustavson

OMAHA (AP)—Dr. R. G. Gustavson, former University of Nebraska chancellor, said here Tuesday night that mechanization, which made America great, is in danger of killing the nation's creative ability.

In the C. W. M. Poynter lecture, Dr. Gustavson declared "one phase of our life is being endangered. That is man's inalienable right to live a creative life."

Dr. Gustavson, president of Resources of the Future, spoke to members of the College of Medicine Alumni Association.

The world's problems depend on people who can live creative lives, he said.

"But there is a growing demand for conformity and a denial of the right to dissent."

Mechanization tends to force people to act en masse in an assembly-line type of living, and it

Extension Board, Workers Honor Departing Petersen

Sixty persons attended a testimonial dinner for departing Lancaster County Extension Agent V. H. Petersen Tuesday night at Cotner Terrace.

Members of the county extension board, past and present, were special guests at the dinner. Members of the extension office here also were present.

Charles Tyrrell of Waverly was the master of ceremonies and Mrs. Oliver Johnson of Ceres presented Petersen with a gift in behalf of the group.

Petersen is leaving his present position to become regional supervisor of extension. He will continue to live in Lincoln.

LHS Parents Elect Officers

Mrs. Ludwig Gartner was elected president of the Lincoln High School Parents Group Tuesday night during a meeting at the school.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Jacob Reifschneider, vice president; Mrs. Arthur Crisp, secretary; and Mrs. Roy Vermaas, publicity.

In a program directed by Mrs. William E. Hall, Mrs. Gartner a discussion was held on mental hygiene in the home, with particular attention being paid to the problems of the modern adolescent. Members of the participating panel included Dr. William E. Hall, Dr. Stewart McDonald and Dr. Donald Clifton.

The Lincoln High School string ensemble, under the direction of Lyle Welch, played at the meeting.

C-119 Crash Kills Seven; 10 Injured

Plane Bounces Into Ft. Bragg Mess Hall

FT. BRAGG, N. C. (AP)—A big Flying Boxcar, falling in flames, glanced off an officers' quarters, bounced across a parade ground and crashed into a mess hall here Tuesday.

Seven men died in the crash and in flames that shot from the wreckage of the shattered plane and mess hall. At least 10 men were injured, the Air Force reported.

Five of the dead were in the plane and two in the mess hall. Two airmen and two soldiers in the plane were hurt. Five others in the mess hall, preparing dinner for an Army psychological warfare unit, were among the injured. One man was hurt fighting fire and trying to rescue the injured.

The plane crashed about 10 a.m. More than 150 soldiers would have been in the mess hall two hours later.

Scores of soldiers and civilians stood horrified as the crippled C-119 plane, which had just taken off from adjacent Pope Air Force Base for Louisville, Ky., turned and tried to make it back to Pope.

McCarthy Editorial

Foe Studied At NU

Leroy W. Gore, the Wisconsin newspaper editor who has proposed a recall election for Sen. Joseph McCarthy "to test his fitness," studied journalism at the University of Nebraska from September, 1924 to 1928.

Gore also attended Simpson College in Indianola, Ia., for one semester.

A graduate of Audubon, Ia., high school, Gore worked on newspapers in Wahoo and Audubon and freelanced in Lincoln after leaving the university.

He is married to the former Grace Giel of Lincoln.

Gore ran an advertising agency in Hutchinson, Kan., from 1935 until he began working for the Berlin Wis. newspaper in 1939. He worked on several other Wisconsin papers, going to Sauk City. He is now editor of the Sauk City Star.

His father, George, a former Lincoln salesman, is now living in Brooklyn, Ia., with a daughter, Mrs. Louise Weber.

Two-Car Crash Injures 3 Persons

Three persons suffered bruises and lacerations in a two-car accident Tuesday night near the intersection of West Van Dorn and Folson Streets.

Mrs. Paul Ludwig of 3311 S. 30th suffered a bruised nose and lacerated knee, and Mr. and Mrs. Dale C. Helmcamp of R. 5 suffered bruises and lacerations about the body.

Helmcamp, a farmer, was driving west on West Van Dorn and was turning south toward the State Hospital when his car was in collision with a car driven by Mrs. Charles Simon, 53, of 3360 Woodshire Parkway, which was going east on West Van Dorn.

Local Elementary Schools Hike Fire, Safety Ranking

Dr. Steven Watkins, superintendent of public instruction of Lincoln schools, has been presented a certificate of merit for raising Lincoln's elementary schools from 75th to 7th place nationally in safety and fire prevention.

The award was presented by A. C. Morton, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce fire prevention committee.

Duplicate copies of the award have been presented to each teacher for display in their respective rooms.

Teamsters OK Contract Offer

Members of the local teamsters union voted overwhelmingly Tuesday night to accept a contract offered them by three Lincoln van and storage firms it was announced by Pete Capellupo, secretary-treasurer of the union.

Forty-nine of the 125 members of Local 608 of the Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers, AF of L, were present at the meeting. If the contract had not been accepted, a strike vote would have been taken, Capellupo said.

The firms, Star Van and Storage Co., Ford Van Lines and Sullivan's Transfer and Storage Co., offered a 5 cent hourly raise to all employees (retroactive to Jan. 2, 1954), a work week guarantee of 40 hours, six paid holidays, and one week's paid vacation after one year's work and two weeks paid after five years, Capellupo said.

B-36s To Make Long Hop

FORT WORTH (AP)—A squadron of B-36 bombers from Carswell Air Force Base will fly non-stop next month to North Africa for a two-week period of exercises, a base spokesman said Tuesday.

A mild and moderate snowfall over western sections of Nebraska may develop Wednesday into a storm that will send March roaring out like the proverbial lion.

The Weather Bureau forecast snow and blowing from southwest and south central Nebraska which is expected to spread snow over the state. It was expected to develop late Tuesday night.

The storm was one which was still in west central Colorado Tuesday afternoon. High temperatures in the state Wednesday will be in the 20s in the west to near 30 in the east.

Snow Tuesday was falling from Grand Island west. However, the Safety Patrol reported that the evenly-falling snow had blocked no roads. Depths ranged up to more than five inches at Scottsbluff and Sidney, with between three and five inches on the ground at Chadron.

There was some fog with the snow at Sidney, but an observer at the airport said temperatures were so mild during the day that some snow was already thawing.

At North Platte, a fall of more than two inches by late afternoon had been reduced to little

U.S., Britain And France Agree To Expanded Dealings With Soviet Bloc; Strict Safeguards

Red China And North Korea Excluded

LONDON (AP)—The Western Big Three agreed Tuesday night to ease the controls on trading with Soviet Russia—but with strict security safeguards.

A communique issued after a two-day conference among U. S. foreign aid chief Harold Stassen and top British and French officials said the three countries would work for "an expansion of trade" with the Soviet bloc in Europe "compatible with security requirements."

They ruled out any change in the tight controls on trade with Red China and North Korea.

The communique said the United States, Britain and France will open talks with the Allied countries with a view to revising the bans on trade with Russia "by narrowing substantially their scope and increasing their effectiveness."

Western diplomats said this meant that restrictions on the sale of war-potential goods to the Russians would be tightened up, but the regulations on shipment of other goods would be softened.

Britain and other trade-hungry European Allies like France have been pressing the United States to trim some borderline strategic goods off the banned lists and to enlarge the quotas on the sale of others.

Stassen sought during the conference to persuade Britain and France to moderate their demands for relaxation of the trade restrictions.

Just before taking off for Washington he told airport reporters: "We had a completely successful discussion and we found a basic area of agreement. I want to make it absolutely clear that we have no objection at all to trade in peaceful goods with Russia. In fact, the United States wants to encourage as much of that trade as can be done."

Recalls German Trade

Asked about the British argument that more trade with Russia will improve the chances for peace, Stassen said: "That may well be. But we must not forget that other countries had strong trade ties with Germany before the last war. Those ties did not prevent war."

"But I sincerely think," Stassen added, "that any effort to increase trade with goods such as food, machinery and housing materials should go along as fast as possible."

Referring to the differences between the United States and Britain over what should be classified as strategic, Stassen said: "The only problem is when you get into the in-between area when you have to decide what is a peacetime and is a probable wartime export."

Omaha Council Vetoes Reformatory Sign Bid

OMAHA (AP)—The $1,330 bid of the state reformatory for 1,000 Omaha street signs has been rejected by the city council.

The reformatory bid had been about $370 under the next lowest, but was protested by State Federation of Labor President Gordon Preble.

Preble said he challenged the right of the reformatory to "even come in and bid" and added the city should not accept such offers, particularly at a time of "so much unemployment."

Nation's Storm Dead Totals 22

By The Associated Press
Spring storms left at least 22 dead and a trail of snow from Nevada to New England Tuesday. Daytime temperatures remained below freezing throughout most of the snow belt and cold Canadian air flowed deep into the nation's mid-section. The cold snap threatened frost damage to peach trees as far south as southern Illinois.

At least 14 deaths in New York state were attributed to the storms. Another 5 storm deaths occurred in Toledo, O., and 3 in Iowa. Most of the deaths were caused by over-exertion.

more than a trace because of melting conditions.

The chief traffic hazard, a policeman at Chadron said, was the snow which became packed on highways and made driving hazardous. The five-day forecast issued Tuesday indicated temperatures would average 15 to 20 degrees below normal through Sunday.

EDC Plan Believed Near Dead

West Germany Ratifies Program

BONN, Germany (AP)—Disarmed West Germany ratified the European Defense Community (EDC) treaty but the belief grew among Germans that this American-supported plan to strengthen Western defenses against Russia is dying.

President Theodor Heuss penned his name to the treaty in his Rhineland Villa, completing a two-year process of German ratification.

With this step West Germany became the second of the six West European nations to complete action on the plan to create a two million man, six-nation army.

The Netherlands also has ratified. The Belgian Parliament has approved the treaty and it now needs only King Baudouin's signature. Luxembourg is believed certain to follow suit. Thus ratification by West Germany tossed EDC's fate squarely into the laps of France and Italy.

These two countries have yet to vote on the treaty signed by their governments in May, 1952. There is mounting pessimism here that EDC will founder in one or both of these countries. This feeling is shared by many top level German and allied officials here.

In Italy, Premier Mario Scelba's cabinet failed again to act on EDC. Reports from Rome said the treaty has little chance for final passage before autumn.

In France, Premier Joseph Laniel's government has declined to set a date for a vote on EDC in the National Assembly despite pressure from the United States.

William Cox Rites Tuesday

Services for William H. Cox, 72, 234 No. 17th, who died Tuesday, will be at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at St. Mary's Cathedral, Msgr. C. J. Riordan officiating.

Mr. Cox was vice president of Cox Plumbing and Heating Supply Company for 40 years.

He was employed in the Burlington shops in Haverlock before he joined his brothers in the plumbing firm.

A native of Lincoln, he attended parochial school here. Surviving are his brothers, James P. and Edward A., both of Lincoln.

The rosary will be said at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday at Roberts. Burial will be in Calvary.

H-Bomb Deliverable By Plane

Warning To World Is Urged

Caution Sounded By Wilson And Solons

By JOHN BOOTH

WASHINGTON (INS)—A leading atomic scientist declared that the hydrogen bomb must be considered deliverable by plane even though no air-drop demonstration of an H-weapon is staged in the current Pacific tests.

Dr. Ralph E. Lopp said there is no question that the "hell" bomb could be delivered over a city by robot aircraft, at risks of a mischance that would be considered great in a test but would be ignored in actual war.

The scientist said in an interview that present-day robots guided from a distance of 20 or 30 miles by another plane, could explode the bomb over a target with an accuracy that would be considered good except for the risk of a peacetime test mistake.

He predicted that in the future H-bombs will be built into powered missiles that can be launched from distances of at least 20 miles by attacking bombers.

Lapp explained that a plane delivering a hydrogen weapon of the power of the March 1 test blast—reported to equal 14 million tons of TNT—would have to be at least 15 miles away from the resulting explosion to escape destruction by heat and shock waves.

By DARRELL GARWOOD

WASHINGTON (INS)—Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson said the results of current U. S. hydrogen explosion tests are "unbelievable" and that the tremendous blasts make it more dangerous for an aggressor to attack America.

At the same time, Rep. Holifield (D-Calif.), a congressional Atomic Energy committee member, declared President Eisenhower, Britain's Queen Elizabeth and Russian President Klementi Voroshilov should jointly warn the world that hydrogen weapons could destroy civilization.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo.) asserted in a speech prepared for Senate delivery that "the recent ominous explosions in the Pacific" prove the U. S. is in a "period of total danger" and that the administration should "tell the American people all the truth."

No Adequate Defense

Both Holifield and Symington pointed to Russian possession of the "hell bomb," insisted that no adequate defense against hydro-atomic attack has been developed and called for full public disclosure of the new perils with which the world is confronted.

At the White House, Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lewis Strauss said he was not alarmed by the unexpectedly monstrous force of the hydrogen device detonated in the Pacific March 1 nor by the cloud of radioactive ash which showered Japanese fishermen.

White House Secretary James C. Hagerty said later he is not sure whether President Eisenhower will speak out at his news conference Wednesday on the H-bomb subject.

Rep. Cole (R-N.Y.), chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, said after a two and one-half hour meeting of his group that the committee has received a preliminary report on the Friday hydrogen blast. He refused to discuss details of the test.

Concordia Choir Making Western Tour

The Concordia College A Cappella Choir of Seward will return to the campus in April after touring the western part of the country. ## Ike Asks Power To Cut Tariffs

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower urged a hesitant Congress to give him increased authority to reduce tariffs and seize the initiative in smashing "unjustifiable barriers" to expanded world trade.

Many Republicans applauded Eisenhower's broad objectives. But from strategically placed members of a party of high tariff traditions came predictions that the President will have to settle for considerably less than he wants.

The bid for more power to lower import duties was the pivotal point in a special 5,000 word message to Congress that set forth Eisenhower's foreign economic policy.

"For our own economic growth," the President said, "we must have continuously expanding world markets: for our security we require that our Allies become economically strong. Expanding trade is the only adequate solution for these two pressing problems confronting our country."

Specifically, he asked Congress to extend the reciprocal trade agreements law for three years beyond its June 12 expiration date and add to it extra authority for him to negotiate cuts in American tariffs in exchange for reductions in tariffs of other nations.

News Around The Globe

Limits Demanded

TOKYO (Wednesday) (INS)—The Japanese government was reported today to have made an outright demand on the United States that the Pacific Ocean be declared "off limits" for nuclear test explosions during the fishing season.

3-For-1 Plan

SEOUL (Wednesday) (INS)—South Korea prodded the United States for more military assurances before making up its mind whether to attend the Geneva Conference in April.

Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai said there should be three South Korean divisions set up for every U. N. division that might be withdrawn—a move which could raise South Korean strength from 21 to 42 divisions.

Gas Rate Cut Delay Is Expected

A new hitch in the proposed reduction of retail natural gas rates is expected to delay the termination of a new rate scale until Monday.

In event all points are settled by Monday, however, Mayor Clark Jeary reported that the new rate ordinance is likely to be given three readings for final approval at one meeting.

The new hitch involves the refund of money to customers of Central Electric and Gas Co. The amount of the refund will depend upon the final rate approved by the Council.

To be refunded is the difference between the rate actually charged by Central since last Dec. 29 to the effective date of the new rate and the rate finally approved by the Council.

The Council's power committee, said Jeary, discovered that the rate blocks it has established for certain usage is not on an equal percentage basis with the rate block now in effect. Thus, he said, the rate block as recommended now by the committee will have to be changed so customer refunds are made on the same basis as the overcharges were made.

Aside from the rate block, Jeary said the committee and Central are now "pretty much in agreement." He declined to say whether the committee had compromised its proposed 1.11 per cent cut in the rate reduction offered by Central.

Iowa Woman Shot

CENTERVILLE, Ia. (INS)—An elderly man who police said apparently went berserk, seriously wounded a woman in whose home he stayed, then killed himself with a .12 gauge shot gun.

Mrs. Erma Phillips, 42, was hospitalized here.

Police Chief Orville Freeborn said she had been shot by Frank Duncan, 72, who then turned the gun on himself. Duncan, a former Rock Island Railroad flagman, had lived with the Phillipses for 12 years.

Road Debate Near

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Senate GOP Policy Committee decided to bring the two billion, 20 million dollar highway construction bill to the floor after the chamber completes work on Hawaiian-Alaskan statehood legislation.

B-36 Scooped Up

SPOKANE, Wash. (INS)—The twisted remains of a big B-36 bomber, were scooped up while the Air Force blamed loss of "directional controls" for a flaming crash that killed seven men Monday.

Three other crew members escaped out the pilot's hatch after the 10-engine plane skidded to a stop and burst into flames at Fairchild Air Force Base. All were painfully burned.

Excise Tax Cuts At Hand

President Expected To Sign Bill Today

WASHINGTON (INS)—Congress passed a bill Tuesday to reduce excise taxes by 999 million dollars a year, beginning Thursday, on a wide range of goods ranging from refrigerators to lipstick.

The measure now goes to the White House for President Eisenhower's signature. Congressional leaders predicted confidently that he would sign it Wednesday.

The House approved the excise cuts 391-1 after conflicting Senate and House versions of the legislation were ironed out by a compromise committee.

Then the Senate passed the compromise 82-8, acting to give the American public its first general reduction in excise taxes in 30 years.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said the President probably would sign the bill Wednesday morning. If he does, taxes on refrigerators and similar household appliances will be cut in half April 1, and the rates for jewelry, sporting goods, cosmetics and many other products will drop.

Although the administration is not happy about losing so much revenue at this time, the President is not expected to veto the bill.

Congressional leaders pointed out that while it cuts revenues 999 million it also extends 1951 excise increases which will bring the government $1,077,000,000 in the next year. These increases were due to expire April 1.

Consequently, if Eisenhower vetoes the measure he would get a net revenue loss of 78 million more than if the bill becomes law.

Nebraska Sens. Butler and Griswold, both Republicans, voted for cutting excise taxes.

All four of Nebraska's Republican representatives—Curtis, Miller, Hruska and Harrison—voted for passage of the bill in the House.

The tax on most household appliances would be cut from 10 to 5 per cent.

The bill would wipe out any tax on movie or other admissions costing 50 cents or less and cut the taxes on admissions above this price from 20 to 10 per cent.

Man Fined $100 In Drunk-Drive Appeal Sentence

Earl A. Thompson, 44, of Crete, was fined $100 and ordered not to drive for 60 days after he pleaded nolo contendere in Lancaster District Court in a drunk-drive appeal case from Municipal Court.

However, Judge Spencer allowed one exception to his not-to-drive order. Thompson can drive on the weekends between his place of employment and Crete.

Another defendant in a drunk-drive appeal case, Fern M. Oelling, 36, of 1700 Folsom, was fined $25 and her driver's license suspended for six months after pleading guilty to an offense of October, 1953.

The city prosecutor recommended to Judge Spencer that the defendant be given consideration as to the amount of fine.

Religious Attacks On McCarthy Hit

Neal Danberg, Omaha director of the National Conference of Christian and Jews said Tuesday night that "there has been an unfortunate reference to the Roman Catholic Church in some attacks on Senator Joseph McCarthy."

"These attacks do the church a disservice," he told a meeting of the B'nai B'rith at the Cornhusker hotel.

Danberg said such attacks are "dragging religion into politics." "We are also concerned," he said, "with the attacks that continue upon the Jewish groups in this country and the false charges against the Protestant clergy."

"Brotherhood is our only hope for peace," he said. "It is a more powerful force than the hydrogen bomb."

Methodist Bishop Cites 'Quiet Need'

Bishop F. Gerald Ensley of the Des Moines area of the Methodist Church told more than 250 persons at St. Paul's Methodist Church of the "need of being quiet" Tuesday night.

In his Lenten message, the bishop said that "we have spent so much time in activity and diversion we are losing our bearing."

"Not only are we not going to be able to save our own souls," he said, "we aren't going to make a contribution to the world unless we take time to think."

"One of the things we need so much," the bishop said, "is inspiration."

The fourth in a series of Lenten services at the church followed a dinner in the church parlors.

NPPS Official Denies Use Of Pressure On REA Vote

Dewey DeBoer, executive director of the Nebraska Public Power System, denied charges that he had used pressure methods to force REA endorsement of NPPS plans over those of the Consumers Public Power District for building a southeast Nebraska steam generating plant.

Replying to charges by Frank Houmont, Broken Bow, head of the Custer County REA following Monday's REA meeting in Lincoln, DeBoer described Houmont's statement as an "unfortunate misinterpretation of our words and actions."

DeBoer, representing NPPS and Ray Schacht, manager of Consumers, appeared before a special REA directors meeting Tuesday to plead for support of their rival plans for construction of the plant.

19 To 7 Vote
The directors endorsed the NPPS project by a 19 to 7 vote.

"I do not think that state-ment to the effect that the NPPS means to fulfill its known responsibilities constitutes pressure," DeBoer.

"The NPPS has a duty to supply electric power. There is currently a need for more power than it can supply. It certainly means to carry out its duty."

Houmont, who led the opposition to the NPPS plant program, indicated that the Custer County REA probably would not go to court itself to attempt to stop it but would be glad to go along if Consumers or someone else wanted to. Consumers, itself, took a reserved position.

H. C. Greenamyre, Lincoln chairman of the Consumer PPD board said:

"The matter of litigation has not at any time been presented to our board."

Greenamyre added that Consumers stood ready as always to work out a mutually satisfactory solution to the two-plant problem with NPPS.

Following the REA's endorsement resolution the public agencies budget board Tuesday at Columbus voted three to one to approve the $17,600,000 budget item for the NPPS plant.

Ray Schacht, representing Consumers, voted against it. But supporting votes were delivered by DeBoer of NPPS, John Clema, executive secretary of the REA's, and M. L. Siever, North Platte, representative of the Nebraska municipalities.

A week ago the Custer County REA made public a resolution asking the governor of Nebraska, the Legislature and others to use their influence to block the NPPS plant.

At the Monday hearing Consumers produced estimates indicating that its 30-year low rate bond program could provide the needed generating plant at approximately $10,000,000 less cost than estimated in NPPS's 40-year higher rate proposal.

NPPS, however, argued that comparison of interest rates were speculative and that its debt retirement program took the heavy paying pressure off the REA's during the early years.

Farmers Take Over North Korea's Front Lines

U.S. GIs Helping Build Homes Anew

CENTRAL FRONT, Korea, (Wednesday) (AP) — The first of 120,000 farmers driven out of North Korea by Red Armies went back yesterday across the 38th Parallel to start life anew on 900,000 mine-studded acres guarded by Allied troops.

Their desolated land was close to the front lines of a war now halted by armistice.

Deep-throated Allied artillery thundered in practice while each family was distributed 600 board feet of lumber and two and a half sacks of cement.

Only Burial Mounds

This would build a new home in the sliver of North Korea between the 38th Parallel and the battleline demarcation zone, a land where there are no homes, only rubble.

Only the burial mounds of long dead kin had been left by the crisscrossing paths of war to remind the refugees of the past.

Some of the 120,000 had fled when Russian occupation troops moved south to the 38th Parallel in 1945 at the close of World War II—the opening wedge in the division of North and South Korea.

Others had hastily packed belongings and headed south when Russian-equipped North Korean forces invaded South Korea in 1950.

Reds Took Land

Among the first few hundred returning to the ghost of his former village was Kim Han Muk, 49-year-old farmer.

"I had 10 persons in my family and I owned 20,000 pyond (about 17 acres)," he said.

"The Russian army came and took my land. They gave me nothing in return. The land was distributed among the good Communists in the village and I fled to the south."

"When the United Nation's Army marched North, the persons who owned my land fled with the Communists. Now the land is mine again."

He pointed to a circular mound in a cleared area half-way up a hillside.

"Our family burial place," he said, "My grandfather and mother are buried there."

U. S. troops are helping the resettlement by searching for mines, erecting bridges, building concrete foundations and dynamiting roads across the hills.

South Korean officials, who want the divided peninsula reunited—by force, if necessary—looked upon the resettlement as something more than just a move to ease the refugee and food shortage problems.

At a village dedication ceremony, Maj. Gen. Chong Hoi Hi, commander of the Republic of Korea (ROK) 5th Army Corps, said:

"This is the first step on the road toward complete unification of Korea."

Farm Product Prices Drop For 2nd Consecutive Month

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported that farm product prices declined eight-tenths of one per cent between mid-February and mid-March.

This was the second consecutive month of decline, the prices having dropped nearly one-half of one per cent in February.

Lower prices for eggs, milk, hogs, potatoes and butterfat were primarily responsible for the decline. These decreases were only partially offset by higher prices for beef cattle, commercial vegetables, cotton, lambs, wheat and soybeans.

The mid-March farm price level was 2.96 per cent below the level of a year ago, and about 16 per cent below the record high set in February, 1951.

Prices paid by farmers for goods and services used in family living and in production increased about one-third of one per cent between mid-February and mid-March. February food prices were primarily responsible. The level of prices paid also was about one-third of one per cent above a year ago but 2.72 per cent below the record high set in May, 1952.

Wesleyan U. Qualifies For Debate Meet

FREMONT, Neb. (AP) — Five mid-western college teams, including Nebraska Wesleyan, have qualified for the National West Point Debate Tournament in the District 4 elimination tourney at Midland College.

The other four teams and their records in competition in a 10 team field here: Denver University, 5-0; Kansas, 5-0; Eau Claire (Wis.) State Teachers, 4-1, and South Dakota State, 3-2.

McElvin Schwenke, Lincoln, and Cary Lemmon, Falls City, the Wesleyan debaters won 3 and lost 2.

The national tournament will be held at the U. S. Military Academy, West Point, N. Y., April 21-24. Thirty teams will compete.

Midland, winner of the District 4 meet last year, failed to qualify for the national.

The topic of the Midland tourney was "Resolved: that the United States should adopt a policy of free trade."

Sites Suggested For Blue River Pollution Meeting

Lincoln, Seward, or Crete have been suggested as sites for the Big Blue River pollution conference which State Sanitation Engineer T. A. Filipi has called to be held Wednesday, April 7.

Towns expected to be represented at the conference are Beatrice, Seward, Stromsburg, Osceola, Ulysses, Milford, Beaver Crossing, Crete, Wilber, DeWitt, and Wymore.

The conference, according to Filipi, is another step in a move by the state health department to cut pollution in the Big Blue following an official complaint received from Kansas.

Sea Lion Can't Live Without Her Tonsils

CINCINNATI (AP)—Janie, a sea lion, died Tuesday following an operation for removal of her four tonsils.

A Wish Come True

"What we need," Rep. Harrison of the Third Nebraska District told a cheering Republican Founders Day audience, "is many more McCarthys."

Here's one instance in which Rep. Harrison got his wish. In this case, it is not a matter of getting a number of imitations of McCarthy. In the approaching congressional campaign, the Third Nebraska District representative comes up with nothing less than the real article, the real McCoy. It has been announced by State GOP Chairman Dave Martin that Sen. McCarthy will be the chief speaker at the Republican pre-primary gathering in late May. And what is still better, to make Mr. Harrison's wish come true, is that the gathering will be held in Fremont, which is in Mr. Harrison's district.

It is rare, indeed, when a man has only to utter a wish to have that wish fulfilled only a few days later.

Just write it down that Rep. Harrison is lucky.

Or is he?

That may depend in a very large sense upon the scheduled airing of McCarthy's conflict with the military during which charges flew thick and fast, charges so serious that Sen. McCarthy's own colleagues felt an investigation was in order, this time an investigation to determine who was telling the truth. But as the days roll by, that investigation slips deeper into the background. There are now broad hints from out of Washington that those within the Republican party who were eager to challenge McCarthy have now lost some of their enthusiasm.

'Hall Of Nebraska Wildlife'

A writer for The Nebraskan reports that it will take a number of years to complete construction of the "Hall of Nebraska Wildlife"—an ambitious undertaking under the direction of C. B. Schultz, director of the Nebraska State Museum which is housed in Morrill Hall on the university campus.

Whatever time is required, the efforts put forth will be well worth while. Largely unheralded, there are building in this state adequate facilities to link early Nebraska with its present. Whether the connection is to be established through museum displays or by historical records carefully prepared and arranged, the end result is certain to contribute more to Nebraska understanding both on the part of our own people and by visitors than any other program that could be developed.

The Hall of Nebraska Wildlife, we are told, eventually will occupy a space of 45 by 140 feet on the ground floor of Morrill Hall. Three exhibits have already been completed, two additional ones are nearing completion, and others are in the planning. It will do much, the museum director anticipates, "to correct the misconception" of those who visualize

Nebraska as a "flat, uninteresting place as far as landscapes and wildlife are concerned."

Other neighboring states have gotten the jump on us; some of them are much more advanced than we are, but perhaps in this instance tardiness has been good fortune rather than handicap. In the not too distant future, Nebraska's generations may look forward confidently to a first-class museum, skillfully and accurately developed, projecting one phase of Nebraska life that so urgently needs recasting—a new State Historical Society building, augmented exhibits, expanded archives, a historical record and service worthy of Nebraska—and finally, a new art center of impressive proportions. All of this will be housed in independent buildings—all of it developed independently and yet thoroughly co-ordinated—and all of it located within relatively easy walking distance of each other. We said Nebraskans were fortunate that these phases of Nebraska life were taking shape through such circumstances that led to the avoidance of mistakes inevitable in hasty planning.

And ahead will be a great, rich contribution to cultural development in this state when the steps now being taken are complete. This much on the centennial of Nebraska territory; much more or all on the centennial of statehood.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Slightly more than a year ago a distinguished Nebraskan, former Gov. Val Peterson, rode into Washington filled with vim and vigor, determined to safeguard his fellow Americans against the potential ravages of attack by a ruthless enemy in this atomic age. He had just been named civil defense administrator by President Eisenhower.

In fairness to Val, all that he needed, it appeared, to protect this country first against the atom bomb and now its big brother, the H-bomb, were generous appropriations. From the time he took office, Congress—an economy-minded Congress—never has been willing to provide the former Nebraska governor with the funds Mr. Peterson thought were needed for a modest program of civil defense. A year ago Congress used the knife in paring him down to size. This year it is said that something around $600 million would get the civil defense program back on its feet but thus far Congress is said to have something like $75 million in mind. Meanwhile the civil defense administrator has been dividing his time between the office of the agency over which he presides and the White House where he has been helping the President unravel tangles. He got nowhere with his tales of horror.

Obviously the American people do not scare very easily. There can be no other explanation of public indifference to the heralded destructiveness of the H-bomb. Talk about it may be just a little bit too big for comprehension by the average human mind.

A member of Congress, Rep. Holifield of California, was describing the first H-bomb explosion in the faraway Pacific. It wiped out an island, he said, leaving a hole at least a mile wide and about 200 feet deep at the center. The force of that first bomb was sufficient to destroy an area of 284 square miles, severely damaging everything within a radius of 314 square miles. Subsequent tests have been even more appalling. It is clear that the No. One problem child of the present administration first is to impart to the American people adequate information on the potential destructiveness of the latest bombs—without scaring the living daylight out of them, if that can be avoided—and then to proceed with orderly thinking to prepare for a nation's defense. That defense is not going to be brought about by politicians, well-meaning though they may be. If there is a defense, it will be developed by technicians, men who know their business, men who really understand what they're talking about.

The H-bomb is no respecter of political labels. We doubt that it would know a Republican from a Democrat, or vice versa. We are convinced it is totally indifferent to whether a city or a region is a Republican stronghold or gives its loyalty to the Democratic party. There is more politics in Washington today than there has been for years—what with congressmen clamoring for pie, for jobs for their faithful, the demands of conservative Republicans that every New Deal measure of the last 20 years be tossed out the transom, and finally the understandable concern of those recently entrusted with national leadership to remain in power. We have no idea how many people in Lincoln take the H-bomb seriously, but on the basis of dinner table discussion, we doubt very many of them do. It may be just as well that they don't. But somebody and some group have a very heavy responsibility to plan and to complete a great deal more by way of national defense, especially in the case of civilian populations, than has been accomplished.

DREW PEARSON

Nazis-Reds Team Up Against Democracy

WASHINGTON — U.S. agents have dug up irrefutable evidence that the 1939 Nazi-Communist pact has been renewed, in effect, and that the Reds are again collaborating with unrepentant Nazis in a world-wide, underground network.

The evidence is also conclusive that the network has used none other than Sen. Joe McCarthy as a propaganda mouthpiece. For example, McCarthy charged the U. S. Army with torturing German war criminals who had been sentenced for the murder of American prisoners. This happened to be the Communist line in Germany, and McCarthy's sensational charges were circulated by the Reds to stir up anti-American feeling among the German people.

Senate investigators traced the charges to Dr. Rudolph Aschenauer, an ex-Nazi working with the Communists, who helped write McCarthy's speeches and mailed them to him from Frankfurt, Germany, in large, brown, manila envelopes. Aschenauer had three known agents in this country—Fredrick Weiss, H. Keith Thompson, and Ulick Varange—who also represented the Socialist Reich party. This was such a flagrant, pro-Nazi act that it was finally outlawed by the West German government. Yet in spite of its Nazi trimmings, the S.R.P. was known to be drawing money and support from the Communists. Its vice chairman, Dr. Fritz Doris, secretly visited Soviet headquarters in Karlshorst, East Germany.

NAZI ADMIRERS MCCARTHY
Of the three pro-Nazi agents in this country, the best known is Weiss, who masterminded the National Renaissance Party, a group of fanatical anti-Semites with headquarters in Yorkville, N. Y. Weiss is one of McCarthy's most ardent admirers, yet at the same time is collaborating with the Communists. He spouts the Communist line on foreign policy, particularly against the European Defense Community, and his fanatical band is known to be infiltrated with Reds.

The FBI is most interested, however, in Varange, a mystery man who also goes by the names Francis Yockey and Frank Healy. He is known to be the author of a book on fascist strategy, urging anti-American but not anti-Soviet activity. As for Thompson, he started out as a left winger, switched over to the Nazis, and now claims to have broken with them.

Purpose behind the new Nazi-Communist partnership is to weaken democracy—an objective of both the extreme left and right. Though the neo-Nazi and Communists openly denounce each other, they secretly work together to tear down the democratic fabric of this country by the old, familiar method of spreading hate, fear, suspicion, and dissension.

A devastating, documented story on the world-wide link between Communism and Nazism appears in Reporter Magazine, which went on the stands today. For example, the Reporter describes the Communist backing of the neo-Nazi leader, Dr. Werner Naumann, who was nominated by Hitler to be Josef Goebbels' heir as propaganda minister.

MARQUIS CHILDS

French Foot-Dragging Threatens EDC's Life

PARIS—The snail that has for so long prevented ratification of the European Defense Community, on which the whole Eisenhower foreign policy is staked, now appears to be more tangled than ever. A new tension is developing between France and Germany over that old bone of contention, the Saar, with its rich coal and iron industry.

Since Premier Joseph Laniel has made settlement of the Saar issue a precondition to naming a date for bringing the EDC treaty before the French assembly, this seems to push into the distant and uncertain future the parliamentary action France must take if the European Army, including 12 German divisions, is to become a reality. Unless some new push brings action quickly, the whole structure of the Eisenhower foreign policy will be endangered, with angry congressional reprisal a likelihood.

One question now being asked is how American policy got stuck so fast in front of this single door requiring French action to open. Although it has been carefully kept backstage, the fact is that several times doubts have been raised as to the wisdom of pledging so much so publicly on EDC.

Behind scenes at the Bermuda conference President Eisenhower was told that there was a good chance France would fail to ratify or would delay indefinitely. One of Ike's old friends on the British delegation talked with him for an hour and a half about the need to canvass alternatives to EDC so that if the latter failed the impression would not be created that the common defense effort put into the NATO force was also being repudiated.

But the President was adamant. He refused to hear any talk about alternatives. After others, including several Americans, suggested that EDC was too uncertain a risk to carry the full weight of the Western alliance an order was transmitted orally to the effect that any American questioning EDC should be asked to resign.

Naturally this made for a new caution. But now top American diplomats cannot ignore the open threat of a prolonged wrangle over the Saar, which could nullify the efforts of the past two years to harmonize France and Germany within a common defense framework. They feel that the French, and conspicuously Laniel, have let them down. They talk of pledges made to get the parliamentary machinery rolling before the Easter holidays, and they say that have not been lived up to.

Whether it was too late at Bermuda to consider alternatives to EDC is now an academic question. It might be added, however, that even Secretary of State Dulles is reported to have felt before he went to the Big Three conference in December that perhaps the time had come to consider other measures. Certainly, it seems too late today to suggest that American military officials clearly see what apparently the French refuse to see. That is that the Germans today would never accept anything like the treaty negotiated two years ago. They have come too far and too fast. The terms they would ask in any new negotiation for a common army would inevitably be rejected by the French.

Miracles may happen. All that Eisenhower and Dulles need is a technical victory—ratification even by the narrowest of majorities in the assembly. Whatever else this may mean it will enable the Germans to form their divisions with American military material to equip them. Military planners in NATO will then feel that a big vacuum in the center of Europe has been filled.

One French leader, former Premier Antoine Pinay, who can claim a greater popular following than most French politicians, said publicly that he would vote for EDC since no one seemed likely to come forward with a workable alternative. But it may be the very fact that this step means a German army in being, and to a lesser degree the country into a state of unhappiness.

Nation Unmoved By Bomb's Real Meaning

WASHINGTON—The hydrogen bombs made by American scientists have blown the caps off islands in the Pacific and dug craters in the ocean bed. Their end products in fact are so ferocious and unforeseen that new H-bomb tests have been postponed until better precautions can be devised.

The political and diplomatic impact of the H-bomb, however, appears in Washington to be almost as feeble as its actual impact is frightening.

The President has talked a little about its effects. He acknowledged publicly that something untoward happened during the last tests, but he stopped there. He has also agreed to release moving pictures of the first true test of the hydrogen weapon in 1952. The new weapons are three to four times as powerful.

But while he has mentioned the effect, he has not talked of a program to meet the altered conditions imposed by the new weapon. No new request for defense measures has come to Congress, no plans for protecting the nation's cities and industrial areas have been put forward.

If the President expects to meet the new challenge with diplomatic moves, the Congress has not been so informed. On the contrary, the speech Monday of Secretary of State Dulles inicates that he is following, not leading, Congress on policy toward the potential enemy.

There is a Civil Defense Administration and again it has been staffed, as under Truman, by able and conscientious people. They have again brought a budget—modest enough—to the Hill. It has been greeted—as usual—with thunders of silence and appears headed for its customary sad fate in the appropriations committees of the House and Senate. These committees do not even pretend any longer to take seriously the Civil Defense problem.

When they concede that the H-bomb appears to be the least of Congressional worries, leading members blame both the White House and the public.

The President, they say, has not told them what they ought to do and how else would they know.

The public is interested apparently in everything else. They write at length about taxes, the recession, farm prices, McCarthy and Eisenhower's golf. They either feel it is useless to worry about the bomb or they don't think of it at all.

The astute politicians on the Hill do not anticipate any change in the situation before the election.

The Life Of Christ

CHAPTER XV

(Bishop Sheen continued with his analysis of the "Beatitudes" in yesterday's "Life of Christ" installment. It is because of his yearning to attain holiness that man has "hunger and thirst." The "merciful" are those who need mercy themselves show it. "The world gives back as a mirror" what we put into it. The "clean of heart" are those who control all lusts as a guarding of the Body temple until it can be used as God wills. "Peace" is not absence of war but tranquility of order. A peaceful world comes not by legislation but by inner regeneration. The 8th Beatitude about the "persecuted" means those who know that to follow Christ is to be hated. Christ summons men not to ease and comfort, but to suffer for His Name's sake.)

Christ speaks for all generations

The cheap clichés around which movies and novels are written, Christ scorns. He proposes to burn what they worship, to conquer sex instead of explaining man by it as does Freud, to tame economic lusts instead of sending minds to Adam Smith or to Karl Marx. All the modern ideas that say happiness depends on 'self-expression,' 'license,' 'having a good time,' or 'eat, drink and be merry for tomorrow you may die.' Our Lord scorns because they bring mental disorders, unhappiness, false hopes, fears and anxieties. The new paganism, like its ancient masters—Seneca, Marcus Aurelius, Epictetus, gives us nothing but cascading platitudes, which take man as he is. Christ talks of what man is to become, and through no energy of his own, but through His. Nowhere do you find Him speaking those cheap platitudes posted on church lawns. "Leave the world behind you and follow me," but you do hear Him say: "What doth it profit a man if he gains the whole world, and lose his soul?"

Model for All Ages
Those who would escape the impact of the Beatitudes say Our Divine Saviour was a creature of His time, but not of ours, and that, therefore, His Words do not apply to us. He was not a creature of His time, or of any time, but we are; Mohammed belonged to his time; hence he said a man could have concubines in addition to four wives at one time. Mohammed belongs even to our time, because moderns say that a man can have many wives if he drives them in tandem style, one after another. But Our Lord did not belong to His days, any more than He belonged to ours. To marry one age is to be a widow in the next. Because He suited no age, He was the model for all ages. He never used a phrase that depended on the social order in which He lived; His Gospel was no easier then, than it is now. As He put it: "Heaven and earth must disappear sooner than one jot, one flourish must disappear from the law; it must all be accomplished."

"You Have Heard" The key to the Sermon on the Mount is the way Christ used two expressions: One was: "You have heard," the other was the short, emphatic word, "But." When He said, "You have heard," He reached back to what human ears heard for centuries and still hear from ethical reformers—all those rules and codes and precepts which were half measures between instinct and reason, between local customs and the highest ideals. When He said, "You have heard," He included the Mosaic Law, Buddha with his eight-fold way, Confucius with his rules for being a gentleman, Aristotle with his natural happiness, the broadness of the Hindus, John Dewey, H. G. Wells, Bertrand Russell and all the humanitarian groups of our day, who have translated some of the old codes into English and call them a new way of life. Of all these compromises, He said: "You have heard."

"You have heard that it was said, Thou shalt not commit adultery." Moses had said it, pagan tribes suggested it, primitive peoples respected it. Then came the terrible and awful but: "But I tell you..." "But I tell you that he who casts his eye on a woman so as to lust after her, has already committed adultery with her in his own heart." Our Lord went into the will, and laid hold of thought, and branded even the desire as a sin. If it was wrong to do a certain thing, it was wrong to think about that thing.

Our Lord was saying: "Away with your hygiene which tries to keep hands clean after they have stolen, and bodies free from disease after they have ravished another." He goes into the depths of the heart and brands even the intention a sin. He does not wait for the evil tree to bear evil fruits. He would prevent the very sowing of the evil seed. Wait not until your hidden sins come out as psychoses and neuroses and compulsions. Get rid of them at their sources. Repent! Purge! Evil that can be put into statistics, or that can be locked in jails, is too late to remedy.

Editor's Note: Be brief. Limit letters to 200 words or less. Letters signed by a pen name or initials must be accompanied by writer's name and address. Letters represent only contributor's view.

Thank You

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: My personal thanks for all the space, thought and ingenuity given our recent Nebraska Art Association show. I've appreciated it all.

MRS. DOROTHY HOLLAND

Chavez Ouster Vote

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Your "Of Men and Things" column of March 23 failed to give Sen. Morse, Independent, and Sen. Smith, ex-Princeton professor and Republican of New Jersey, credit for voting against the ouster of Democratic Sen. Chavez of New Mexico, so as to enable the Republican governor (chosen at the same election as Chavez by the same election methods) to appoint a Republican in his place, and thus give the party a bare majority (counting the vice president) in the Senate.

And Doris Fleeson in her March 29 column rather exaggerates when she states that to dodge going on record, "several (Republicans) quietly found business elsewhere." The vote was really a record breaker. Actually every senator went on record except three—Chavez, who very properly stood aside, and only two (not several) absentee Republicans, Butler of Maryland and Wiley of Wisconsin. Every one of the 48 Democrats was on hand and 47, all but Chavez, voted solidly against his ouster. Sen. Morse and five bolting Republicans, nauseated by the proposal—Aiken of Vermont, Cooper of Kentucky, Payne and Mrs. Smith of Maine, and Smith of New Jersey—joined the Democrats to blast the proposed ouster by a vote of 53 to 36.

In one motion, moreover, Kuchel of California and Langer of North Dakota paired against the proposal with Bridges of New Hampshire and Knowland of California, respectively, thus making the actual division of the 93 on record 55 to 38.

City Elections

Nebraska Town Star: I have a few questions about city elections I would like to have answered:

(1) Is it legal for a wife to serve on the election board as judge or clerk if her husband's name is on the ballot for any office, such as councilman mayor, etc.?

(2) If this should happen, would the election be legal?

(3) Is it legal for a city councilman to do any other work for the city and draw extra pay for this work?

NEBRASKA READER

Editor's Note: State election laws, according to information furnished by Lancaster County Election Commissioner Harold Gillett, do not specifically cover the question of a candidate's relative serving on an election board as an election judge or clerk. However, Lancaster County election officials have always considered such service undesirable and have not permitted it. A strict application of law apparently would permit such service if an issue were made of it. Since such service is not prohibited by law, it is assumed by election officials here that such service by a candidate's relative would not invalidate the election.

Lincoln City Atty. John Comstock, and Atty. Ralph Nelson of the state attorney general's office provide this information on Question No. 3. In Lincoln, the home rule charter specifically prohibits a city councilman from holding any other city job or performing any other city work which would bring him any remuneration. In towns, cities and villages not governed by home rule, the question has generally revolved around common law as applied as a matter of equity. The courts of Nebraska have generally held, however, that a public official cannot hold two jobs which conflict with one another or overlap in any way. Thus, it would be considered unethical and probably illegal in common law for a councilman to do any other work for the city and draw extra pay for this work, as his duties as a councilman would take him into direct contact and conflict with his other city work on which the council would have to pass.

New Approach Needed

Curtis, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It looks like a good time for Secretary Benson to consider what his attitude would be if nature should reduce our surplus. Anyway, the wheat crop this year is going to be small in much of the wheat belt. Here, at least, one-half the wheat is in very bad shape and a lot of wheat ground will be planted to other crops and the remainder will raise only a below-normal crop. A similar condition prevails over large sections of the Southwest. There has been but very little moisture there during last fall and winter.

Maybe we will come to see that a surplus in good years is not a curse, after all. And it may be that we will learn that reducing farmers' income is not the way to control crops. "The Nebraska Farmer" wants the administration to explain how reducing prices of grain is going to build up the farm income. Anyway, a new approach to the problem is needed by the secretary of agriculture.

C. R. HERRICK

Miller And Controls

Blair, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Now the doctor—turned politician for greater pastures—Dr. Miller of the big Fourth Nebraska District, comes forth with the observation that over 50 per cent of his district favors flexible controls. Or so a recent poll indicated.

This is very interesting, but hardly conclusive. Just how much of Nebraska's big corn crop is produced in Mr. Miller's district. Just how many "small farmers" are represented in this section? And just how many of those polled or just how many farmers in Nebraska actually know what flexible price supports will mean to them as compared to what will mean to the richer farmers in Illinois and Indiana and Ohio?

It is interesting to note that the high-moralled Benson can see justification for using the "Republican-hated Brannan plan" for his wool growers in his own state, but finds it most impractical to so subsidize anyone else.

Well, I was sitting around Skipper Kent's in San Francisco the other evening. Separating the sheep from the goats. And the bad people from the good people. This is the parlor game of our times. It is played by congressional committees and editorial writers and the man in the street. But how can you tell?

Mr. Cohn looks bad to Mr. Adams but good to Senator Joe. Mr. Schine looks good to Mr. Cohn. Mr. Adams looks good to Mr. Stevens who looks good to Mr. Eisenhower. A rose is a rose is a rose.

Mr. Adlai Stevenson looks good on television but runs second in the voting booth.

The more I read, the less I can tell who's whose.

Girl's Death Counted As Road Fatality

The State Accident Records Bureau reported it was adding to the state's traffic fatality list the death of Jessie Redhawk, 16, Pine Ridge, S. D.

Miss Redhawk was killed several weeks ago when she fell out of a car in which she was riding with Robert Walton, 22, of Gordon, and was struck by another car traveling the opposite direction.

A jury at Chadron last Friday convicted Walton of assault and battery. He was charged originally with manslaughter.

The Records Bureau said the verdict put the death in the accidental category.

The state's traffic death total thus stands at 71 for the year, compared with 43 at this time last year.

Gas Tax To Be 29 Years Old

The 29th anniversary of the state gasoline tax in Nebraska will be marked Thursday.

In its first year, starting April 1, 1925, the tax brought in about $3 million, according to C. Russell Lockwood, executive secretary of the Nebraska Petroleum Industries Committee.

At present, the tax brings in about $28 million a year.

Total collections from the tax, from its inception up to the end of last year, were about $350 million.

Out today—on all newsstands

A number of fellows of the Royal Geographic Society are up in the Himalayas. They are looking for the "abominable Snowman."

What makes him so abominable, fellows?
Possibly the Snowman is abominable to you and me.
But to the abominable Snowman he looks good. I think a Snowman probably goes around saying:
"My dear, you look simply abominable tonight."
And the abominable Snowman is very pleased. She gives him an abominable smooch.

Ah, me. If things would only come out black and white. Instead of tattle tale gray.

When I was molding public opinion for the dailies, I ran into a number of ladies who had the same trouble.

In June they were wearing orange blossoms and saying "I do."

In December they were wearing black and explaining to the jury why they ventilated the departed with an ice pick.

"Because he was abominable," they say. "He was a heel."

This made quite an impression on me. And I have tried since not to be the least bit abominable. For I do not wish to be separated from both the sheep and the goats so abruptly.

How is it that gentlemen can be so mentally stimulating one day. And a month later in Reno be "mentally cruel?"

I think maybe the Fellows of the Royal Geographic Society may be in for a surprise.

When they find the "abominable Snowman," he may turn out to be a prince of good fellows.

I love my fellow man. But why is he so unpredictable? The tax people look bad to me. But they looked OK when I was on Uncle Sugar's payroll. Move over Mr. Abominable Snowman. Make room for the rest of us.

Grain Storage Problem Looming Ahead

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Farm Editor

Drought conditions and the widespread defection of farmers in Nebraska and other states from the support program in corn may act together to underline the pressing need for more grain storage facilities.

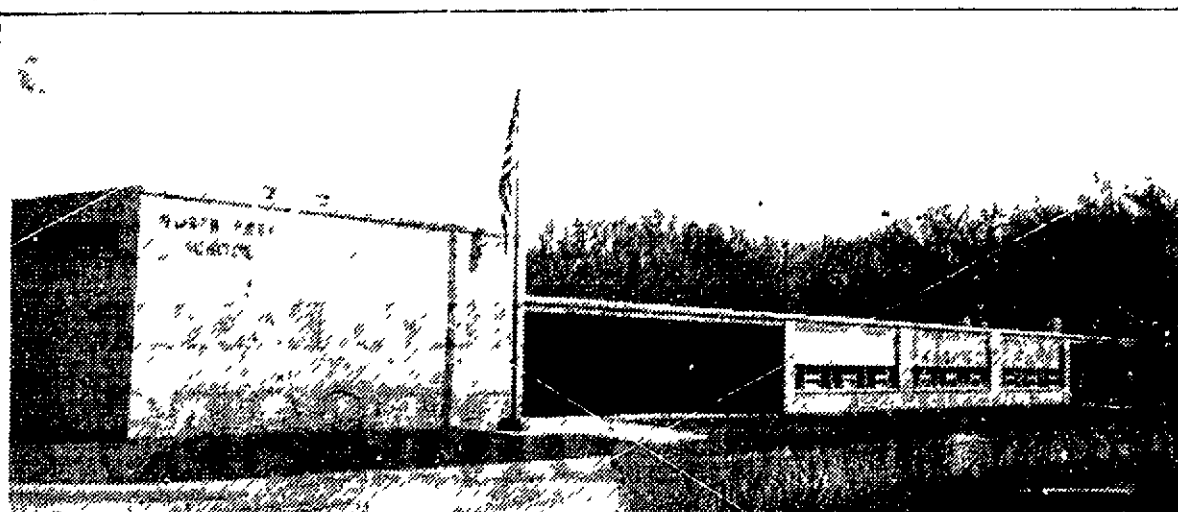

This situation is true in the predominantly corn producing areas. Surveys conducted by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics revealed that the majority of farmers would not abide by acreage allotments in corn this year. In addition, word has been received from dry portions of the state indicating that farmers will replace "blown out" wheat plantings with either corn or milo, another feed grain.

Agriculture officials in Lincoln believe that at least 50 per cent of the corn produced this year will not be available for the price support program. The flood of corn which thus will have to go on the open market from the 1954 crop will not only be heavy but will face competition from other feed grains being produced instead of wheat.

No one will estimate what the market will do, but the state of corn prices on the 1953 crop may provide an indication. The corn price level for government supply loans stood at $1.55 a bushel, while the average market price was $1.35—a spread of 20 cents a bushel. And this spread took place at a time when every ear of corn produced was eligible for the support program.

This year, therefore, the farmer without adequate storage who produces corn for the open market may well face a situation where his product will have to be sold at a time when the market is weighed down with millions of bushels of corn and other feed grains. If, however, he can store that corn he can still maintain some independence from such a market situation.

Members of the state Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation office have pointed out that, while this is the season of the year when country elevators are normally emptying their stored grain for movement to terminals, the terminals are so full that there is little such movement going on. This means that the harvest months ahead this year will find many country storage points already filled.

School represents an investment of $375,000. Superintendent of schools at Broken Bow is C. H. Hare. (Photo Special to The Star.)

Radiation Burns Said 'Ridiculous'

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP)—A Hastings eye specialist who treated one of five Hastings men suffering eye burns while unloading cast iron water pipes at Talmage said Tuesday the burns are similar to common ultra-violet burns such as suffered from a welding flash.

Earlier a Nebraska City doctor who gave preliminary treatment said the burns seemed to be the result of some kind of radiation and resembled "weld burns" although none of the men had done any welding recently.

So far as radiation is concerned, the Hastings doctor said, it would be "ridiculous" to connect the injuries with atomic energy radiation.

The Hastings doctor said his patient suffered no ill effects from the burn and that his vision is now perfectly normal.

The doctor said he understands a chemical analysis of all contents of the railroad cars being unloaded by the men near the Talmage depot is being made.

Iowa To Host Inter-Agency Basin Meeting

DES MOINES (AP)—Two governors and representatives of eight other states holding membership in the Missouri Basin Inter-Agency Committee are expected to attend a meeting of the agency here Wednesday.

Those in charge of arrangements said the governors would be Sigurd Anderson of South Dakota and William S. Beardsley of Iowa. The organization meets periodically in the various states to discuss flood control and allied subjects. Iowa is host this time.

Among the speakers will be O. B. McMurry, secretary of the Iowa Soil Conservation Committee; Bruce F. Stiles, director of the State Conservation Commission; C. Woody Thompson, director of the Bureau of Business and Economic Research at the State University of Iowa; Harry Reeves, Chicago, representing the Federal Power Commission; Col. T. J. Hayes, district Army engineer at Omaha, and Gladwin E. Young, Washington, deputy administrator of the Federal Soil Conservation Service. Wednesday's meetings will be in the Iowa House chamber.

Girl From Germany Wins Spelling Meet

SYRACUSE, Neb.—A 15-year-old girl who came to Nebraska City from Germany only four years ago with only a brief knowledge of the English language won the oral competition in the Otoe County spelling contest held here. Jacqueline Volkmer, eighth grader at District 22 near Julian, won the written competition in the contest.

Special Serenade Planned For Founder Of Crete Male Chorus

CRETE, Neb.—The Cretonians, an all-male chorus, will serenade their 84-year-old founder Sunday at Concordia, Kan.

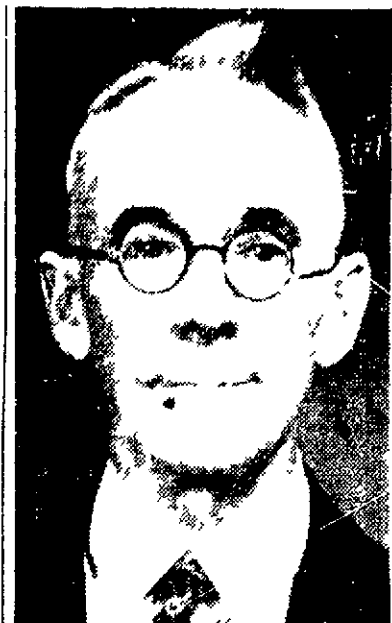

George Aller, who organized Crete's "ambassadors of song" in 1928, is living with a son in Concordia. However, he makes frequent trips to Crete to help out with the direction of the chorus.

Aller got his start in music in 1887 when he joined a men's quartet called the Adelphe quartet, a group which toured the nation in concert.

Following his graduation from Doane College in 1893, he began his professional career near Shelby, Ia., where he and his wife gave voice and piano instructions.

He also established a music department at the old Franklin, Neb., academy. Later he studied voice in Berlin and Paris and became music instructor at Peru State Teachers College on his return to this country.

Aller taught at Boise, Ida.,

GEORGE ALLER

Nebraska Wesleyan University, Kearney State Teachers College, and Doane College before his retirement.

The Cretonians, who meet weekly and give special concerts, are composed of farmers, businessmen, college and high school students.

McKelvie Give Gift To Schools

CLAY CENTER, Neb.—A Clay Center couple, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. McKelvie, have donated $10,000 to the public schools here for use in the construction of a vocational agriculture building.

A resident of Clay Center for 70 years, McKelvie said the gift is a token of appreciation to the community in which the McKelvies have prospered.

The funds will be given to the school board as soon as the reorganized Clay Center district reaches its minimum assessed valuation of $3,500,000.

Of 13 business schedules, seven were lower and five higher in total valuations than last year.

The check was made by the Fremont Guide and Tribune on schedules selected at random by County Assessor Herman F. Suhr.

Schepler Is Re-elected Head Of Fire District

WILCOX, Neb.—Lloyd Schepler was re-elected president of the Wilcox Rural Fire District at the annual meeting.

Lloyd Spiedel and Bernard Wisniewer together with Schepler were re-elected to the board of trustees.

Icy Road Blamed For Accident

ROS COE, Neb. (AP)—Two highway accidents involving car-truck crashes have taken the life of one man and injured two others.

Adell B. McCain, 47, Aurora, Colo., was killed when the car in which he was riding collided with a truck on Highway 30 four miles east of Roscoe. Reported in critical condition at a Sutherland hospital was his brother, Lloyd of Jackson, Mo. The truck driver, Max H. Lee of North Platte, apparently escaped without injury.

Earlier, the Safety Patrol had identified the victim as Mrs. Adell B. McCain, the wife of Lloyd.

Ammo Truck Crash

The Safety Patrol, which investigated the crash, said the car went out of control on the icy highway and struck the truck. Both the truck and the car were damaged.

Ralph J. Dessart, Green Bay, Wis., also was in a Sutherland hospital with a broken collarbone following the collision early Tuesday between his car and an explosive truck driven by M. O. Stewart of Lincoln. Extensive damage was reported for both vehicles.

Nebraska's highway toll now stands at 70, compared with 43 at this time last year.

Heredity Is Said Very Considerable Factor In Cancer

OMAHA (AP)—A Jackson Memorial Laboratory scientist said Tuesday heredity is a "very considerable factor" in cancer.

Evidence also points to glandular disturbances but not to viruses said Dr. Philip R. White.

Dr. White is a physiologist at the Bar Harbor, Me., research center. He spoke to members of the Omaha chapter of the Jackson Laboratory Assn. here.

Fairmont AB Area Back To Farming

FAIRMONT, Neb.—Heavy equipment is returning the once bustling Fairmont Air Base back to its original status as common farm land.

The farm area will be operated by the State of Nebraska with help from the State Reformatory. Elmer Williamsen, custodian of the 1,860 acre base area, said farming facilities on the land include four irrigation wells.

Equipment Is Now Breaking Up Concrete Installations and Clearing the Area for Irrigation Farming

Equipment is now breaking up concrete installations and clearing the area for irrigation farming.

With sufficient knowledge it probably will be possible to bypass that stage, especially in people, Dr. White said.

Then it may be possible to control cancer growth just as insulin controls diabetes, he said, though, since there are many kinds of cancers, it will take many different kinds of controls.

C. W. Shaffer Dies; Early Day Plane, Car Enthusiast

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP)—Death has ended the career of a Sidney man who left the Alliance railroad shops to play a role in the early use of automobiles and airplanes.

Funeral services were held here for C. W. (Cap) Shaffer, 72, who died at a Sidney hospital.

He reputedly helped Buick test his early cars and later became interested in racing in which he took part from 1907 to 1910 in France, England and the United States.

He also recalled an early meeting with Glenn Curtiss, the pioneer of aviation, and later built and flew planes himself, holding pilot license No. 10 in the Aero Club of America.

In 1912, he said, he helped deliver Curtiss planes to the Chinese government, and the next year took a shipment to Russia where he taught several Russian pilots to fly. He was an aviation instructor in England during World War I.

Shaffer left aviation during the depression and came to Sidney in 1938 and opened a cabinet shop which he operated until a few years ago.

Attending the planning session here were Varro H. Rhodes, Omaha, president of the Covered Wagon Council; Elmer Ogren, Kansas City, deputy regional executive; Cecil Young, Omaha, general chairman of the conference, and H. W. Haun, Omaha, Boy Scout executive.

6-State Scout Meet Planned

OMAHA (AP)—Eight hundred representatives from six states are expected here for a six-state, two-day regional conference of the Boy Scouts beginning April 25.

Kansas and Nebraska Scout executives drafted plans for the meeting at planning sessions in Omaha Tuesday.

A panel discussion on the first day of the conference will be moderated by Dr. Pliny Power, assistant chief Scout executive from New York. Panel members will be William Harrison Petridge, Chicago, editor and publisher of Popular Mechanics; Roy Wenzlick, St. Louis, president of Wenzlick Associates, and Dr. Seth Slaughter, dean of the Bible school at the University of Missouri. They will discuss "the worth of scouting in a changing world."

Monday evening the meeting will hear Dr. James Fifield, pastor of the First Congregational Church in Los Angeles.

Attending the planning session here were Varro H. Rhodes, Omaha, president of the Covered Wagon Council; Elmer Ogren, Kansas City, deputy regional executive; Cecil Young, Omaha, general chairman of the conference, and H. W. Haun, Omaha, Boy Scout executive.

"AT THE CROSSROADS OF LINCOLN"

Pentagon Accused Of 'Foot Dragging' On Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—A row over the Eisenhower administration's "new look" military program erupted in the Senate as Sen. Symington (D-Mo) accused Pentagon chiefs of "foot-dragging" on defense and of withholding vital information from Congress.

Symington contended that "only small portions of the country are being adequately defended" against a possible Soviet H-bomb attack.

"Unless a change is made, he said, 'we are moving into a position of complete insecurity.'"

Chairman Saltonstall (R-

Mass) of the Senate Armed Services Committee defended the administration's policies. What the administration is trying to do, he said, is to push a buildup that will be strong enough so that no country will dare to attack—and at the same time keep the nation on a level economic keel.

Bad Situation

But Symington, supported by Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) and several Democratic Senators, would have none of Saltonstall's explanations, and in winding up his speech he told the Senate:

"Perhaps I shouldn't mention this, but I hear that the Navy situation is very bad from the standpoint of jet airplanes, even worse than the situation in the Air Force."

Morse said he knew that "thousands of fighter pilots" were forced to drop out of the Air Force because of a five-billion-dollar cut in air funds by the Eisenhower administration last year.

Senators Jackson (D-Wash) and Maybank (D-SC) agreed that the slash in air funds would delay the Air Force buildup by at least two years.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) said the Strategic Air Command was "supposed to have massive retaliatory power"—to strike back in the event of a Soviet attack on the United States. But he said it would have only 54 groups under the "new look" instead of the 58 it was supposed to have by now.

A group varies in strength from 30 bombers to 75 fighters.

Peck's Car Overturns

PARIS (INS)—Film star Gregory Peck was reported to have escaped with bruises when his automobile turned over on the road between Lille and Le Touquet. Agence France Presse in a dispatch from Lille said that Peck crawled out of his somersaulted car, wiped his handkerchief over several bruises, and then took a taxicab to the seaside resort of Le Touquet.

Survivors include his wife, Olga. Mr. Steen, who died in Fremont, was a past noble grand of Odd Fellows No. 58 of Wahoo.

Nebraska Now Under Chicago Immigration

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nebraska is being shifted from the Kansas City Immigration and Naturalization Service office control to that of the Chicago office. The Kansas City office is being converted into a sub-office as an economy measure and will function only as a local office for Kansas and Western Missouri.

Agriculture set up an extension service at the Friday noon meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Chamber of Commerce. Gould served in Turkey first as assistant economic commissioner for the Mutual Security Agency and later as extension advisor to the Turkish agriculture department.

U.S. Allies Seek Clarification Of 'United Action' Plan

Warning By Dulles Is Studied

WASHINGTON (INS)—Great Britain and other key U.S. allies are seeking clarification of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' declaration that Chinese Communist aggression in Southeast Asia should be met by "united action."

British Ambassador Sir Roger Makin first conferred with Dulles and later went to the White House for a discussion with President Eisenhower. The White House would not give out any details.

Dulles also talked with the ambassadors of India, Italy and New Zealand and with Carlos Romulo, special representative of Philippine President Ramon Magsaysay.

As the conferences were held, new pressure was applied to Dulles' warning. The U.S. charged in the United Nations that the government of Red China "believes" in war "as an instrument of national policy," and warned that to admit the Peking Communist regime to the world organization "would be to stultify the whole purpose of the U.N."

'Serious Risks'

Following a 45-minute meeting with Dulles, Indian Ambassador G. L. Mehta told newsmen he had discussed the secretary's major policy address in which the cabinet official said Indo-China and all of Southeast Asia have "great strategic value" to the U.S. and must be saved even at the cost of "serious risks."

Mehta said he was not sure what Dulles meant by "united action." Asked if India would be willing to join in any united action against possible Chinese Communist encroachment in Southeast Asia, the Indian envoy replied: "We don't know because we don't know what Secretary Dulles means."

The envoy suggested that Dulles may have meant that U. N. action would be taken in the event of a Red Chinese move into Indo-China. He said the words "united action" may not necessarily be limited to military action.

'Great Importance'

New Zealand Ambassador Leslie J. Munro, who was closeted with Dulles for nearly an hour, said he was unable to comment when asked whether his country was prepared to join with other nations in "united action" against Red aggression in Southeast Asia.

Meanwhile, top administration officials made it plain that the U. S. had no intention of spelling out the "united action" program because America is determined to keep the Communists guessing about Allied plans at a time when new terror-weapon developments are dramatizing the perils of global war.

Your Skin is Telling About Your Age

Premature crow's-feet at the corners of your eyes are often caused by skin dryness. Skin dryness is caused by your skin's inability to make enough lubricating cholesterol and esters. Penetrating Lanolin Plus Liquid used nightly as a cleanser—then a few extra drops gently massaged into your skin before retiring—next day a few more drops used as a powder base. This keeps your skin constantly supplied with an abundance of cholesterol and esters. Result: dry skin is overcome—premature dry-skin wrinkles quickly fade, giving you a surprisingly younger look. Get your Lanolin Plus Liquid today. Use it tonight. Actually SEE and feel a difference tomorrow morning. All this for but one dollar, plus tax.

Owners Offer Channel 12 To University

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Cornhusker Radio & Television Corp. of Lincoln, Neb., proposed to turn over its Channel 12 television station at Lincoln to the University of Nebraska.

It asked the Communications Commission to approve a transfer of the permit to Byron J. Dunn, president of the National Bank of Commerce in Lincoln, as trustee.

The agreement said Cornhusker has more than $600,000 invested in the station. It proposed to offer the University an opportunity to take over the permit with certain equipment, for $100,000. The deadline for acceptance of the proposal by the university is July 1, 1955, with a provision that the trustee operate the station meanwhile in co-operation with the university.

The agreement suggested that the university has about $75,000 a year available for its television activity. Cornhusker offered to pay all the expenses of the trustee and to underwrite any deficit in operating expenses until the sale is completed.

The commission last week authorized Cornhusker to move to Channel 10, taking over the permit of the Cornbelt Broadcasting Corp., if Cornhusker divests itself of its channel 12 permit. Cornhusker said it believes it can provide better service on Channel 10. KFOR-TV formerly was on Channel 10.

Both university and Cornhusker spokesmen said Tuesday night that nothing has been done at the university relative to setting up facilities for handling the channel. George Round of the university public relations department said the first step will probably be to make a study to determine such items as possible costs of operation before the matter is presented to the Board of Regents.

Gov. Crosby's Petition Plans 'Unchanged'

Gov. Robert Crosby said Tuesday there is "no change" in his plans for a petition drive to place proposed constitutional tax reforms on the November election ballot in Nebraska.

Under a barrage of questions at his first news conference this week, the governor refused to answer either way when asked if the petition campaign might be dropped in favor of the special session approach.

But while insisting his plans for a petition campaign remain unchanged, the governor still did not rule out the possibility of an agreement between himself and the Legislature to put the proposed changes on the ballot by legislative action.

Proposed constitutional changes can be put on the ballot either by petitions, or by the Legislature. Some have expressed the view the governor should have utilized the legislative, rather than the petition method.

Gov. Crosby said he will visit again next Saturday with the Legislative Council committee headed by Sen. Otto Liebers of Lincoln, which has been studying the whole tax problem.

"I have a high regard for Liebers' committee and I don't want to subtract in any way from their usefulness," the governor said.

Meeting Held

The governor and the Liebers committee last Saturday met in executive session.

The governor had not consulted the committee before announcing last week his plans to achieve a vote of the people on constitutional changes which would permit tax exemption of household goods, partial exemption of homesteads, different tax formulas for different kinds of property, appointment instead of election of county assessors, and a change in the make-up of the state equalization board.

"It was a very pleasant and friendly conference without raised voices," the governor said of his meeting with the committee Saturday.

"There were no circumstances that required any of us to keep our voices raised."

The governor said he is working on the language to be used in the petitions which he proposes to have circulated.

'Perfection' Sought

"I want the language to be as perfect as possible, all things considered," he explained.

"The nature of these amendments is such that I am proposing that a greater amount of responsibility be deposited with the Legislature," he added.

Response to the petition proposals has been good, he said. He emphasized that all of the proposed amendments are "permissive" in nature.

For example, they would give the Legislature authority to say whether household goods and personal effects should be exempt from tax, or whether homesteads should have an exemption, and how much.

Gov. Crosby said his "Operation Honesty" campaign to induce full reporting of personal property for taxes is "having the desired effect."

"People are taking lots of pains with their returns, and assessors are pleased."

One Polio Case

One case of polio from Douglas County was the only one reported in the state last week, the state health department said Tuesday. It brings the total for the year to date to eight as compared with 10 at this time last year.

Wagener Is Given Okay To Recover 'Lost' Gas Taxes

A formal resolution authorizing Lancaster Co. Atty. Frederick Wagener to take legal action against the state treasurer's bond to recover "lost" gas tax funds has been approved by the County Commissioners.

The resolution directed Wagener to "file appropriate civil action against the state treasurer and his bond and bonding companies to recover the loss sustained by the County by reason of erroneous distribution of the state gas tax."

The loss to the county from the delay by the state treasurer's office in using new census and motor vehicle registration figures was $130,558.89 according to figures obtained in an audit ordered by the county.

California Demo Admits He Was Red

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Jackson (R-Calif.) said Tuesday Bert Coffey, a member of the California Democratic Central Committee, has acknowledged he had been a member of the Communist Party and wanted to testify about it.

Jackson told the House that Coffey visited the Capitol recently and called upon Democratic members of the California delegation, including Rep. Doyle (D-Calif.) who like Jackson is a member of the Un-American Activities Committee.

Jackson said Doyle relayed a request from Coffey for an appearance before the committee, that the committee agreed to the request and set up a subcommittee to hear him.

Jackson denied a report that he had initiated a probe of Coffey and said he had asked not to be put on the subcommittee.

The subcommittee, composed of Reps. Kearney (R-NY), Scherer (R-O) and Doyle, scheduled a closed door meeting Monday for Coffey, Jackson continued, "but he had flown the coop—or was in Washington no longer."

TOWN TALK

TOWN TALK is comparatively gay this morning—We've news of guests in town—know of a birthday celebration that took place last night—learned of some homecomers who have already returned—and others who will be coming along later this week—It's not been at all dull this morning—and to add to the festive atmosphere we found a luncheon on the calendar for today.

OUR current guest is Frank M. Kreidler of Honolulu, T. H., who is spending a few days at the house guest of his sister, Mrs. Helen Atkinson. Mr. Kreidler came to Lincoln from Phoenix, Ariz., where he was attending a meeting of the New York Life's Million Dollar Club—He plans to leave tomorrow to return to Honolulu.

AND WE heard that Dr. and Mrs. Robert Windle have had guests this week—Dr. Windle's sister, Mrs. Gene Harper of Electra, Tex., and her two sons, Windle and Jimmy. Mrs. Harper and the Messrs. Harper are visiting Mrs. Harper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Windle in Falls City, and came to Lincoln for a Saturday-to-Tuesday stay with her brother and sister-in-law.

THE birthday celebrant we mentioned is Mrs. Arnott Folsom who was complimented Tuesday evening when Mrs. Emmett Junge entertained the members of her birthday club at her home.

AND maybe this is the time to mention the luncheon that we found under Wednesday in our little red book. Mrs. Claude S. Wilson is the hostess, and

The Hasebroocks Have A Party

When Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hasebroock were host and hostess at a reception between the hours of 2 o'clock and 5 o'clock on Sunday afternoon at their home in West Point, it was to honor their son, Robert Hasebroock and his fiancée, Miss Gracia Eyth of Beatrice, whose marriage will be solemnized on Friday evening, April 9, and Miss Eyth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Eyth. Two hundred and fifty invitations were issued for the party which had for its decorative motif mauve and pink, introduced with violets and pink sweetheart roses. The blossoms and lighted candles in silver candelabra appointed the refreshment table. Assisting in the dining room, the living rooms, and at the punch bowl were 50 hosts and hostesses, all of West Point.

Following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Hasebroock entertained their out of town guests at dinner in Fremont.

In the picture, left to right, are Mr. and Mrs. Hasebroock; Miss Gracia Eyth, a senior at the University of Nebraska where she is a Kappa Alpha Theta; Robert Hasebroock, also attending the University of Nebraska and a Delta Tau Delta; Mrs. Arvid Eyth, and Mr. Eyth.

Attending the party from out of town were the bride-elect's parents, her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Eyth, and Mrs. Cecil Stratton, all of Beatrice.

to 20 guests at the Laase home. A personal shower was presented to the bride-elect.

Announcing plans for her wedding this morning is Miss Patricia McEvoy who has chosen Saturday, May 1, as the date for her marriage to Robert L. Flatten. The ceremony will be solemnized at 10 o'clock at St. Mary's Cathedral. Miss McEvoy will be the honored guest at a miscellaneous shower on Wednesday evening, April 7, when Mrs. Orval Koch and Mrs. Ralph Willis will be co-hostesses at the home of Mrs. Koch. Twelve guests have been invited for an informal evening.

Another spring bride-to-be who has chosen May for her wedding month is Miss Elsie Runge who will become the bride of Raymond Steinman at a 7:30 o'clock service to take place Sunday, May 9, at St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Miss Runge will have as her maid of honor and only attendant her sister, Mrs. Walter Maughan, and Erhart Steinman of Nebraska City will serve his brother as best man.

On Tuesday evening, Miss Runge was the honoree at a miscellaneous shower for which Mrs. Kenneth Schweitzer, Mrs. William Schweitzer and Mrs. Fred Schweitzer were co-hostesses. The affair was held in the parlors of the Highland Park Church.

Miss Phyllis Gana, whose marriage to James Horan will be solemnized at 8 o'clock, the evening of Friday, April 9, at the Sprague Methodist Church, was the guest of honor on Sunday afternoon when Mrs. Paul Egger and Mrs. Owen Housinkvelt entertained at the home of Mrs. Egger. The informal affair was held at 2 o'clock, and a personal shower was presented to Miss Gana.

Last Friday evening, Mrs. Corneal Gana and Mrs. Raymond Bouwens were co-hostesses in courtesy to the bride-elect at the home of Mrs. Gana at Adams, and on Sunday afternoon, a miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Gana was held at Dorchester. The hostesses were Mrs. Frederick Kleinholz and Mrs. Clarence Alschede.

TAKE A BOW

MRS. L. W. HURST

To serve as the hub of a very active household, to have a full-time career as assistant principal at Irving Junior High School, and to hold office in many professional and civic organizations in the community, seems almost more than one woman can handle, but Mrs. L. W. Hurst not only does the job efficiently, she thrives on it.

The secret of her success, according to Mrs. Hurst, is to give her full attention to the task at hand and, excellent advice, to take on only one job at a time.

Although Mrs. Hurst does not like to cook (however, her family is well fed), she thoroughly enjoys the outings she and her husband have with their son, William, and daughter, Kathryn Ann, and other young people in the College View neighborhood when they take their turn with other parents in the community to chaperon skating parties, sports events and picnics. With increasing frequency she finds herself presiding at the stove so that the "gang" can be fed.

Currently serving as president of the Lincoln Teachers Association, Mrs. Hurst is a member of the executive committee of the Nebraska State Education Association and serves on the legislation committee of the organization. A past president of the College View High School Parent-Teacher-Student Association, she has been active in the Lincoln PTA organization and is a member-at-large of the PTA city council. She also has served as publicity chairman, chairman of juvenile protection, and legislative committee member on the state board of the Nebraska Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Mrs. Hurst is a past president of the Lincoln Inter-Club Council and is a member of the Child Guidance board and of the Lincoln-Lancaster County polio board. She is active in Delta Kappa Gamma, an education honorary for women, and in Kappa Delta Pi, national scholastic fraternity, and at present she is serving as a member of the board of Warren Methodist Church.

Her family is fully as active as she is. Her daughter, who is a senior at College View High School, is president of her Y-Teens group, and her son, William, who is a student in the University of Nebraska college of engineering, is active in advanced ROTC, serves as an assistant Boy Scout master and finds a few extra hours in his busy schedule to work for the county engineers.

Mrs. Hurst is a member of one organization, however, which she admits is pure pleasure and calls for no civic enthusiasm. She and her husband are members of a group called the Quizzers which is a discussion group composed of seven couples who meet frequently for evenings of conversation. Each member takes his turn in preparing a short talk which then is thoroughly criticized, but good-naturedly, by the others.

—latest thing in hosiery spotted in several of the larger stores on a recent trip throughout the country is a rather startling innovation. Narrow multicolor stripes an inch apart run either vertically or horizontally from the heel to the top of the stocking—reminiscent of the Can-Can era, —also new and unusual in the way of household items are pillows in all different colors made to resemble watermelons, bananas, fish, or barber poles (in white with red stripes). Even the Man in the Moon appears in pillow form. They are all the usual sofa pillow size and can be used in recreation rooms, porches, or children's rooms.

mentioned that, although this is the third time he has endured the ordeal, he is violently ill each time his wife is in the hospital.

—and this reminds me of the young father who does things the easy way. Whenever his wife leaves him the chore of picking up the baby-sitter he simply sends a taxicab after her!

—if any of you are contemplating a tour through the newly decorated White House in Washington better schedule it for any day but Saturday. The crowds are tremendous then, but the hours are the same every day—10:00 to 12:00 o'clock. ## The Hope for Hopeless Hair

A RESTOR TREATMENT is just what the name implies, it restores hair to a normal condition, for the many ills of hair, excessive dryness, split ends or damage from improper treatment. It is the quick restoration with the help of keratin, a protein found in normal hair which is often lost when the hair is abused or neglected for a month or two.

RESTOR is a solution of elements for hair designed to penetrate the hair shaft and remain there to revive, strengthen and add weight to limp, dull, scanty, bleached, drab and dyed hair. It will definitely change the appearance with just a single treatment to a more natural look and will make it feel like new grown hair, resulting in a defined and lustrous appearance, more satisfactory permanent waves and will prevent fading in tinted hair.

The whole process takes no longer than a few more minutes and helps to make a bygone of unruly hair.

THE WAY MY FAMILY LIKES IT

Here are Mrs. Kent Morgan and Melinda, 14, preparing Mrs. Morgan's notorious Poppy Seed Cake that has proved well worth the "trouble" taken to make the cake from scratch. Of course, the rule can be applied to a box cake, but don't expect the same results!

POPPY SEED CAKE

Cream  $\frac{3}{4}$ c. butter with  $\frac{1}{4}$ c. sugar. Add  $\frac{1}{2}$ c. milk and  $\frac{1}{4}$ c. milk in which you have soaked  $\frac{1}{2}$ c. poppy seeds overnight, alternately with  $2\frac{1}{2}$ c. sifted flour and  $2\frac{1}{2}$  t. baking powder. Add 1 t. vanilla and fold in 4 beaten egg whites.

Turn into 2 greased and floured 8" layer pans and bake in a 350-degree oven for about 25 minutes. Cool while you prepare the frosting and filling.

FILLING

Beat together 4 egg yolks and  $2\frac{1}{2}$ c. milk in top of double boiler. Sift in  $\frac{1}{4}$  t. salt,  $1\frac{1}{2}$ c. sugar and  $3\frac{1}{4}$ t. cornstarch. Cook over boiling water, stirring, until thick. Cool well and reserve about 1 cup mixture for sauce, etc. Into remainder, fold  $\frac{1}{2}$ t. vanilla and  $1\frac{1}{2}$ c. chopped walnuts.

FUDGE ICING

Melt  $2\frac{1}{2}$ t. butter and 2 squares

By John Powers

Every mother should instruct her daughter in the essentials of good grooming, so that when a girl reaches her teens she has set for herself a practical beauty routine.

Today I want to give the teenager a few beauty hints that will help to make a special impression on a special person (your best beau) for a special occasion—say, a school prom.

If you schedule your preparatory hours, you won't necessarily rush; then you can enjoy your party to the fullest, without concern for details you may have neglected.

You probably will have decided well in advance what gown, shoes and jewelry you will wear. You will have tried on the complete outfit, to be sure that each element complements every other, and that you haven't forgotten anything—gloves or evening purse, for example.

First off on party day, be sure your dress is pressed and ready. Lay out your accessories, complete to your wispy curls and the strapless brassiere that gives you such becoming curves.

Your hair has been shampooed the night before; now give it a final setting. Roll the curls without wetting your hair, then wrap a steaming towel 'round your head—turban-like—for a five-minute set. Let the curls dry under a net.

A warm, relaxing bath can be timed on the beauty schedule to coincide with drying curls. Then a powder dusting and lingerie.

Since you don't want to play the femme fatale, just your natural pretty self, this is no time to experiment with cosmetics. You may wear rouge and eye shadow, but apply them sparingly. Choose a bright clear-red lipstick, or one with orange or bluish cast, depending upon the color of your dress.

The Powers Girls always do a careful job of applying cosmetics when they dress, to save extensive touch-ups later. Then you need carry in your evening purse only what it is designed to contain: a lipstick, comb, handkerchief, compact, tissues—and a door key.

The Hawaiian Touch

One doesn't put ham and eggs in the category of exotic foods as a rule—not unless, that is, you give it the Hawaiian touch as we have done in this morning's recipe—Ham and eggs, Hawaiian, will become one of your favorite foods for a late breakfast, brunch—or even a late supper—Try it.

For each serving you will need:

- 1 firm banana (yellow with green tips) peeled
- 1 pineapple slice, drained
- 1 slice of ham
- 1 or 2 eggs
- Butter or margarine for frying

Pan-fry the bananas and pineapple in butter or margarine until golden brown. Transfer fruit to a heated platter and set aside in a warmer or oven to keep warm. Add more butter to pan and fry the eggs. Meanwhile, in another skillet, fry the ham. To serve on individual warm plates, put an egg (or eggs) on one side, then arrange on the other side the banana and the pineapple on top of the ham.

If desired, you may make a heavy syrup by cooking together brown sugar, butter or margarine, and pineapple syrup drained from the pineapple slices. Pour 1 tablespoon of this syrup over each serving of bananas, pineapple and ham. Serve with hot buttered toast.

Crop Report:

Wheat Needs Rain

Nebraska's entire wheat belt needs more moisture.

Although the wheat regions received some moisture, the State-Federal Crop Reporting Service said in its weekly report that the moisture was "generally too light" to be of material benefit.

The wheat outlook in the Panhandle, while variable, does show some improvement locally from the moisture. However, the service says considerable damage to wheat was reported in some Southwestern and Central counties with slight damage in a few eastern counties.

"The outlook for wheat is lower than it was last fall and there were more reports of damage last week than for previous weeks," the crop service stated.

Spring rains are also needed for alfalfa and wild hay—still in good condition. Pasture is slow for the same lack of moisture. There are a few local shortages of feed, the service reports, but the supply generally ranges from ample to surplus. The outcome of some alfalfa seeded last fall is uncertain.

Cold weather with enough surface moisture to prevent field operations has delayed spring seeding. The report shows that 29 per cent of the oats have been seeded—mostly in the southern counties. Spring wheat seeding is about half finished and barley about 38 per cent completed.

Spring rains with higher temperatures are needed, the service repeats. The northern third of the state received considerable snow and very little spring planting has been done.

Cattle Lost

Two counties reported losses of cattle, mainly calves, during the recent storm. Shipments of cattle to country points during January and February showed an increase of 74 per cent while the shipments to the nine "corn belt" states show an increase of 40 per cent for the same period over a year ago. Shipments of lambs to country points showed an increase of 56 per cent for the two months as compared to that period a year ago and the same increase is shown for the corn belt area.

The farm labor supply is more nearly adequate than previously with more boys coming home from the service and fewer being drafted. Although cold weather last week delayed farm operations, the open winter has enabled farmers to get more of their work out of the way earlier than usual.

FROM THE SKYWAYS TO THE HIGHWAYS

FOR MILITARY USE Phillips Petroleum Company scientists originated and first manufactured new super-power aviation fuel components—Di-isopropyl (pronounced di-iso-pro-pull) and HF Alkylate. These high test ingredients made possible more powerful, higher anti-knock fuels for combat aircraft.

RESTRICTED for use in high performance aviation gasoline, these powerful components have for years been on United States Government priority. But now military authorities have released restrictions on their use and Phillips Petroleum Company is able to use them in automotive gasoline.

TODAY, Di-isopropyl is available to motorists exclusively in new gasoline called Phillips 66 Flite-Fuel! Flite-Fuel gives you increased power, greater fuel economy, higher anti-knock quality, freedom from stalling... plus Phillips 66 controlled volatility and the clean-burning features for which Phillips 66 Gasoline is famous.

'I Want Rocky Marciano,' Says 'Hurricane' Jackson After Win

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—The whole town's talking about the incredible Jackson boy, Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, that is.

Twenty months ago, a pro, 18 pro fights, 22 years old, no formal schooling, a self-made fighter, Jackson is one of the leading challengers for the heavyweight crown.

"I want Rocky Marciano now," he said after demolishing Dan Baccaroni, world's third ranking heavyweight, via a sixth round technical knockout. "I was chased out of Rocky's camp. Now I want to get even."

Nobody laughed at this physically dynamic 6-2 1/2, 191-pound Georgia-born New York Negro, Jack Dempsey and other expert boxing men rate Jackson at least the equal of Ezzard Charles, Roland LaStarza, Nino Valdes and Tommy Harrison who preceded him in the heavyweight rankings.

"With experience, he'll be a great fighter," said Dempsey. "But he's tough enough now as it is with his peculiar style."

Peculiar is the word. He throws punches as fast as a well-trained, sops up punishment like a sponge, has speed and en-

Norm Brown Opens Against Galveston

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex.—Manager Whitey Wietelmann of the Lincoln Chiefs believes in sticking with a winning combination.

So he's starting the same lineup against Galveston Wednesday night that he used in shutting out Corpus Christi, 6-0 Sunday.

The pitchers will be the only difference and this time Wietelmann will use a trio of veterans—Norm Brown, Norm Brown, Andy Bush and Roger Wright.

"We need every exhibition game we can get," said Wietelmann, lamenting the fact that his Chiefs, after meeting Texas City Thursday, don't have another game until April 7.

"You can't tell which players you want to keep by merely watching them in practice," Wietelmann says. "You have to see what they can do in an actual game."

His starters at Galveston will include (in batting order) Jim Fairchild, shortstop; Fred Hancock, second base; Andy Anderson, centerfield; Tom Nell, leftfield; Red McQuillen, rightfield; Larry Neal, third base; Moose Womack, first base; Frank Calo, catcher, and (in order) Brown, Bush and Wright, pitchers.

The temperature reached a spring training peak at 87 Tuesday as Wietelmann sent his squad through another two-hour session on fundamentals.

The skipper is happy over the lack of injuries, notably sore throwing arms. "Dusty Rhodes has the only sore arm we've had," said Whitey, "and Dusty's arm is just sunburned."

Wietelmann hopes to install every man on the squad in the Galveston and Texas City games.

General Manager Bill Herring will join the Chiefs in Galveston and the squad cutting is expected to start.

At least five pitchers will be severed, along with one infielder and one outfielder off the present 27-man squad.

"It's going to be hard cutting any pitchers after just watching the guy over a little three-inning period," sighed Wietelmann.

Against Texas City, Wietelmann will lead off with newcomer Charles Griffith and finish up with Veterans Don Straub and Vance Carlson.

LaStarza Is Upset; Randy Turpin Wins

LONDON (AP)—Pudgy Don Cockell, British Empire heavyweight champion, Tuesday night scored an upset 10 round decision over New York's formidable Roland LaStarza to boost his chances for a shot at the world title.

A capacity crowd of 18,000 in Earls Court Arena saw the 25-year-old former Baltimore blacksmith come from behind to gain a narrow edge over the world's fourth ranking contender.

It was the eighth straight victory for the poly-poly Britisher since he was knocked out in 11 rounds by Randy Turpin on June 10, 1952 in a battle for the British Empire light heavyweight crown.

Cockell ballooned to super-heavyweight size after that defeat and he weighed 211 to LaStarza's 189 1/2.

On the same card, Turpin won a close ten round decision over Ole Bengtsson, Swedish middleweight champion. It was Bengtsson's first defeat in 16 pro fights. The verdict drew loud boos.

The handsome LaStarza, making his start since he was stopped in 11 rounds by Heavyweight Champion Rocky Marciano in New York last Sept. 24, got off to a commanding lead but couldn't hold it against the determined Briton.

The Associated Press scorecard had Cockell in front, 54-41. Referee Eugene Henderson was the only official, as customary in England.

On the AP card, LaStarza the 2 to 1 favorite, won the second, third, fourth and tenth rounds with the first even. Cockell was awarded the fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth rounds.

The thick-necked, five-foot, ten inch Cockell was warned three times for low blows, none of which appeared to hurt Roland.

LaStarza's big round was the fourth. Shortly after Cockell was warned for hitting low, Don counted with two straight lefts. LaStarza rushed his tubby foe and connected with a flurry of lefts and rights to the head. Cockell was rocked to the ropes just before the round ended.

Boxing beautifully, the college-educated American dominated the early part of the fight. He slipped Cockell's punches deftly and scored points with a stabbing left jab and nifty left-right combinations although he bled from the nose in the second round.

In the fifth, Cockell switched tactics and turned the tide. Instead of throwing his wild, roundhouse rights, he turned boxer himself. He counted neatly with left jabs with an occasional right.

Cockell, fifth ranking contender, outpunched LaStarza in the sixth and seventh rounds for narrow margins and in the eighth he shook up the American with a hard left to the head and a powerful uppercut.

Sellout Game Telecast, Panorama Are Ruled Out By NCAA Committee

By ED L. CAMPBELL

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association's TV committee Tuesday recommended two major changes in its football television program.

If approved by NCAA members, there will be:

1. No more telecasting of sellout games.
2. No more panorama telecasts of snatches from several games being played simultaneously.

Any regional telecasting will be restricted to Thanksgiving Day games.

The committee rejected a Big Ten proposal for more regional telecasting, declaring that the NCAA plan "better serves the interests of intercollegiate football and the nation's universities and colleges at this time."

Under the Big Ten plan, a team would be permitted to appear either twice regionally—on a once at home and once away basis—or once nationally.

Under the NCAA plan, a major team can appear only once whether nationally or on the holiday regional telecasts.

Of the Big Ten proposal, the NCAA office in a prepared statement said:

"The TV committee spent an extended period of time discussing the specific Big Ten proposal and in analyzing that proposal as well as all other conceivable forms of regional telecasting. The committee recognizes there are commendable features attached to various types of regional television and these have been cited and discussed at the committee's meetings."

"After full exploration, however, it was the committee's conclusion that the proposed plan better satisfies the objectives of the NCAA's program and better serves the interests of intercollegiate football and the nation's universities and colleges at this time."

NCAA Executive Director Walter Byers, who made public the committee report, said the plan will become effective upon approval of two-thirds of the NCAA members in a mail referendum currently in progress.

Under the plan, a national game-of-the-week will be telecast on the 12 Saturdays between Sept. 18 and Dec. 4, inclusive. On Thanksgiving Day (Thursday, Nov. 25), the sponsor may arrange for regional telecasting of as many games as desired. There will be no blackouts of any area.

Of the 12 Saturday games, at least one shall originate in each of the eight NCAA geographic districts and no more than three shall originate in any one district. A college will be allowed

Big Ten Members Urged To Vote Against NCAA Plans

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten's TV Committee Tuesday recommended that conference members vote against the NCAA's 1954 football TV program.

The committee's statement precedes official Big Ten reaction to the national-controlled NCAA plan which may be forthcoming at a conference meeting of athletic directors and faculty representatives late next month.

The Big Ten strongly urges regional television, has mapped its own program on this basis and has been approached by several major networks to produce it. Well-paying sponsorship is no problem.

The conference TV committee's statement:

"We are deeply disappointed that the NCAA is proposing a 1954 television control plan which fails to incorporate the principles of regional televising our conference has recommended.

"As a committee, we are recommending that the member institutions, of the conference vote 'No' on the referendum to record their protest against the inadequacies of the proposed plan. We believe the colleges must find a better way to respond to the challenge of television, not only to live with it but to make it work in behalf of intercollegiate athletics.

"We continue to believe in the principles of regional televising as the soundest basis yet devised for an enduring policy of national control."

The Big Ten TV committee consists of Athletic Directors Ted Payson, Northwestern, chairman; Fritz Crisler of Michigan; Dick Larkins, Ohio State; Doug Mills of Illinois and Charles Flynn, Illinois sports publicity chief; and conference representatives, Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson and Assistant Commissioner Bill Reed.

"The TV committee has gone as far as it can," said one TV committee member who wished not to be identified. "If the referendum is in favor of the NCAA plan, and this certainly is to be expected—a meeting of the conference as a whole is set. Official reaction should then be forthcoming."

At Michigan, Crisler said:

"I would much prefer the Big Ten's plan of regional televising. It better serves the aims and purposes of all concerned. There's not much use being on the defensive and shying away from TV. We've got to live with it so we may as well join it. But it must be controlled—and the best method I feel is on a regional basis."

Olson Will Mark $129,000 Payday

CHICAGO (AP)—Carl (Bobo) Olson figures to have his biggest payday—something like $129,000—when he risks his middleweight crown against Kid Gavilan, the 147-pound champion, Friday night.

The scheduled 15-round bout, promising to be one of the best of the year, is expected to draw the scaled capacity at Chicago Stadium, a $360,000 gross gate and 19,400 fans.

Based on this goal, Olson's share will be about $129,000 and Gavilan's $90,000.

"A gross of $360,000 means a net of about $260,000," Truman Gibson, International Boxing Club secretary, said. "Then you must add $100,000 in television proceeds."

Olson will receive 35 per cent of the gate and TV receipts and Gavilan 25 per cent.

The Firing Line

Norris Anderson
Sports Editor,
THE STAR

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex.—If there is a "peepul's choice" among Texas baseball fans, his name would be William "Whitey" Wietelmann.

Whitey, skipper of the Lincoln Chiefs who are training here, piloted Wichita Falls, Tex., to the Big State championship last summer. In the doing, Whitey's colorful and aggressive managing caught the fancy of Texas fans.

Every Lincoln workout draws from 25 to 50 fans and they come to watch Whitey. He draws frequent oral salute, mostly jocular, from newer for every one. Whitey is the type of skipper who defends his team down to the last umpire's "You're out of the game." He was tossed out of five Big State games last summer for defending his players' rights too vigorously.

On one occasion at Temple, where the fans as well as a partisan minion of the law usually laid for Whitey, the Chiefs' skipper had a memorable evening.

One of Whitey's Wichita Falls players was a native of Temple and knew that the big policeman had just been promoted to police chief that afternoon.

"Remember that big cop who always hovers over our dugout and gives us a bad time?" the player asked Whitey, who remembered. "Well, he was just promoted to chief of police. Now he'll really be throwing his weight around."

Trouble soon arrived. One of the Temple players checked his swing too late and fouled over the stands. For some reason, the umpire ruled that the ball had struck the player on the shoulder. He waved the batsman to first before Wietelmann's astonished eyes.

Whitey immediately charged on to the field with fire in both eyes. Following a bit of forensic debate, the umpire tossed the irate manager out of the game.

As Whitey started picking up his belongings in the dugout for the exodus to the showers, the big policeman entered the dugout. He was trying to hurry the deal and Whitey, standing on his rights, refused to be hurried.

"I'm going, I'm going," he told the big Shamus.

"Get out right away or I'll arrest you," barked the law.

At that, Whitey began moving slower than before. The law, snorting fire and brimstone, advanced on him.

Whitey stood his ground, looked the law in the eye and remarked quietly: "You're acting like you'd just been promoted to chief of police."

The law stood dumfounded. Whitey left the game at his leisure.

You know where Whitey spent the rest of the game? Playing with the kids in the kiddies' pen.

Savoie, Persley Clash In TV Bout

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—Armand Savoie and Arthur Persley, a couple of lightweights who have been more or less idle of late, clash in a 10-round fight here tonight.

Savoie, the Canadian from Montreal, is rated a harder hitter although Persley of Red Cross, La., ranks a notch higher in the lightweight ratings in No. 8 spot.

The fight will be televised (CBS) both nationally and locally, starting at 9 P.M. CST. In Missouri fights are scored by dividing 10 points to a round between the contestants on the basis of their showing.

It will be the first start for Savoie since he was knocked out last November by Jimmy Carter of Montreal, then lightweight champion. It will be Persley's first start of the winter season.

Yankees Beaten Despite Cerv's 7th Home Run

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Del Ennis hit a 400-foot homer to give the Philadelphia Phillies a 7-6 victory over the New York Yankees Tuesday before a crowd of 2,232, largest of the spring in this city. The blast, off rookie Bob Grim, broke a 6-6 tie in the fifth inning.

The veteran outfielder also supplied the big hit in the opening inning, when the Phils scored six times and kayoed Whitey Ford, the star lefthander of the world champions. Del tripled with two on in that inning, a drive of 450 feet to right center.

Ford, who is 15 pounds overweight, gave his worst performance of the spring. The southpaw lasted only two-thirds of an inning, being belted for four hits and allowing four walks. He has given 18 runs in 14 innings so far and is fast losing taste as the ace of the New York staff.

Karl Drews, who started for the Phils, was wild and lasted only three innings. He gave up three walks and two of these were turned into scores in the third.

The Yanks tied the game in the fifth on three singles and a homer by Outfielder Bob Cerv. The circuit came with two on and was the seventh of the spring for the husky slugger.

Cavarretta's Firing Termed Big Surprise

CHICAGO (AP)—Phil Cavarretta's sudden dismissal as manager of the Cubs took Chicago by complete surprise.

The appointment of Stan Hack, another Chicago favorite, as Phil's successor was considered logical.

The surprise was that Cavarretta was released in the midst of spring training.

"Even the most severe critics of Phil Cavarretta as a manager—and they were few—had no notion a change was in the offing," said the Chicago Daily News.

"Newspapermen assigned to the Cubs were open-mouthed in surprise when Personnel Director Wild Matthews announced the managerial switch in his (Dallas) hotel room."

"The Cub players were equally dumfounded when they heard the news."

"If a change had to be made, most people believed it would occur during or after the season, certainly not before the race started," The News continued in a story out of Dallas.

The Chicago American quoted Cavarretta out of Dallas as saying he knows only one reason for his dismissal:

"It's because I talked to Mr. Wrigley (P. K. Wrigley, Cubs' owner), the newspaper quoted Cavarretta.

Cavarretta told The American of a meeting with Wrigley at Phoenix, Ariz., March 18.

"I thought a conference was in order and Mr. Wrigley agreed with me," Cavarretta said. "... We were both unhappy over the events of the day. We had just lost a game to the Giants that we should have won, and Mr. Wrigley was present to see the sudden, sad turn of event."

Cavarretta went over the entire team with Wrigley, player by player.

"I came away from the session feeling real good," Cavarretta said. "Mr. Wrigley told me he'd get in touch with Wild (Matthews), and tell him about our chat, and get him working on the items we discussed."

"That just goes to show you how wrong a fellow can guess," Cavarretta was quoted as saying. "Now that it is all over, that chat with the big boss is the only reason I can directly connect to my firing."

Chicago Nips Baltimore

DALLAS (AP)—The Chicago Cubs merged home runs by Hank Sauer and Ernie Banks with seven-hit pitching to defeat the Baltimore Orioles 3-1.

Phil Cavarretta, ousted Cub manager, watched from the stands. It was the Bruin's sixth victory in 21 starts this spring and their fifth in 10 game with Baltimore.

The Cubs were in temporary command of Coach Bob Scheffing. Stan Hack will take full charge as the new manager when he joins the club at Shreveport today.

Friend Sizzling

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Right-hander Bob Friend faced just 28 batters and was the first Pittsburgh pitcher to go nine innings this spring as he scored a 3-0 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Friend gave up but three hits, and all three were erased on double plays. He walked only one, the only Boston runner left on base.

To add to his fine performance, Friend drove out a pair of singles off Boston Pitchers Willard Nixon and Joe Dobson, one of his hits driving in the second Pittsburgh run in the second inning.

Globetrotters Tip All Stars, 87-86

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—J. C. Gipson pushed in a follow shot in the last second of play to give the Harlem Globetrotters an 87-86 win over the College All Stars in basketball exhibition.

A crowd of 12,043, the season's biggest basketball throng in Memorial Auditorium, watched the Globetrotters get back on the winning path. This victory gave them a 3-1 record in their cross-country series with the collegians.

Gipson sank the key basket after grabbing a rebound from a long set shot by teammate Ermer Robinson.

Willie Gardner and Walt Dukes got 17 each to lead the victors. All-Americans Cliff Hagan and Frank Selvy topped the All Stars with 19 and 16.

Patterson Wins By TKO

WASHINGTON (AP)—Floyd Patterson, the promising young light-heavyweight contender from New York, scored a second-round technical knockout over Sammy Brown of Newark at Turner's Arena Tuesday night.

It was Patterson's 11th straight victory since winning the Olympic middleweight championship. Patterson, weighing 167 to Brown's 168 1/2, knocked his opponent to his knees twice in the first round and finished him off in short order in the second.

Patterson, rated sixth among the challengers for Archie Moore's championship, used a series of short rights to end the fight.

Santee To Be Glamor Boy Again

Texas Relays To Threaten Dozen Marks

AUSTIN, Tex., (AP)—The entry list for the Texas Relays pushed toward the 1,200 mark Tuesday posing a threat to more than a dozen records in the huge track and field carnival.

Glamor boy of the meet once more is Wes Santee, the great distance runner from Kansas who again will anchor four relays. Last year he led them all to victory, setting one world and one American record in the process.

Hurrying Wes, the boy with the burr-head haircut and the chop stride, will pass up an opportunity to try for the magical four-minute mile, confining himself toward giving Kansas a dominating position in the relays. Santee is not entered in the special mile run in which he probably could break the record with ease since it is 4:12.3, and Santee has done it almost 10 seconds faster.

Santee runs the half-mile lap on the sprint medley, the mile on the distance medley and the last lap on the four-mile and two-mile relays and in the case of the latter two, he has the same help as last year—Art Dalzell, Lloyd Koby and Dick Wilson. Santee and mates bettered the world's record in the sprint medley with a time of 3:21.8 and beat the American record for the four-mile relay with 17:14.0. They tied the Texas Relays record in the two-mile with 7:41.8.

Back on the sprint medley relay team are Dick McGlinn, Frank Cindrich and Santee while Dalzell, Koby and Santee return for the distance medley.

Host Texas aims at setting some records itself and prospects are good for it in the 440-yard and 880-yard relays. Texas did 41.2 last week in the 440 and that's the record here. Texas also ran the half-mile in 1:25.3 and that's only three-tenths of a second over the Texas Relays record.

Among the individuals Jim Harrington of Notre Dame may crack the pole vault record of 14 feet 2 1/4 inches. He bettered that height last year with 14 feet 3 1/4 inches. Charles Holding of East Texas might wipe out the high jump record of 6 feet 9 inches which he shares with Walter Davis of Texas A&M. Holding leaped 6-0 1/2 last week. And John Bennett of Marquette and Neville Price of Oklahoma, each having done better than 25 feet, will be after the broad jump record of 25-7. Fredrik Eckhoff of Oklahoma A&M will seek to better his record of 8:35.1 in the 3,000 meters and Bruce Drummond of Oklahoma, who shares the record in the mile, is again an entry.

Twenty schools are entered in the University Class—Texas, Texas A&M, Southern Methodist,

Deitemeyer Scores High Gun Average

Bob Deitemeyer with a .782 copped top average for the season as the Lincoln Rifle and Pistol Club held its final indoor shoot at the Military and Naval Science building range Tuesday night.

Other averages in the top 10 were Floyd Flader, .781; Wayne Welty, .779; LoRayne Leitner, .773; Allen Mart, .773; J. Ceraola and Rex Jewett, .768; Payl Hayes .767; Harold Ress, .755, and J. R. Renne, .751.

Flader posted the high score in the final night's shooting with a total of 285. Final handicap shoot awards were won by Bauer, McCracken, Lovelace, Bukey and Thimgian.

The top five scores:

	S	T	R	Total
Flader	85	95	95	275
Deitemeyer	88	96	98	282

First Round KO

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Joe Baksi climbed into the ring Tuesday night after an absence of 2 1/2 years and with four bone-rattling left hooks knocked out Billy Smith of Aiken, S. C., in one minute and 15 seconds of a scheduled 10-rounder.

The once high-ranking heavyweight from Kulpmont, Pa., was making the first start in a comeback attempt. He weighed 239 and his opponent 222.

McCarthy Laughs Off Movement To Recall Him

Senator Says His Probe Of Reds Will Be Pushed

NEW YORK (INS)—Sen Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) laughed off a Wisconsin movement to recall him, declared his probe of Communists will be pushed and gave his approval of a new book titled "McCarthy and His Enemies."

McCarthy flew to New York from Washington to take part in a news conference at the St. Regis Hotel attended by the authors of the book, William F. Buckley Jr. and L. Brent Bozell, both graduates of Yale University.

The senator said he had read the book and characterized it as "objective" and "excellently documented." He added:

"It's the first book on McCarthy which was not written by a bitter enemy or by McCarthy himself."

"Available"

A reporter informed McCarthy that Secretary of State Fred R. Zimmernan of Wisconsin had said that if the McCarthy "recall movement" is successful he "would be available."

"Fred has always been available as a candidate," the Wisconsin senator smiled.

The senator declared he knew nothing about the recall movement except that it was started by a weekly newspaperman.

Asked if he thought his investigation of alleged "coddling" of Communists in the Army as well as other probes have been "stymied," McCarthy replied:

Probes Lagging

"Not completely. But if there is unforeseen delay in obtaining an acting chief counsel in the dispute between the Army and my chief counsel, Roy Cohn, it may be necessary to reappoint the situation."

Other investigations are lagging. "There are 130 individuals in the Defense Department with a background of Communist activities, although they are not all necessarily Communists."

We have pending an alleged fraud and bribery investigation in Alaska. We also have some unusual income tax settlements.

to look into as well as other work to be done."

"Most Valuable"

McCarthy emphasized he is not blaming either Senator Karl Mundt (R-SD), or Sen. John McClellan (D-Ark.), in the delay getting a counsel to handle the Cohn-Army controversy.

In response to a question, Sen. McCarthy said he "sincerely hopes" that Cohn will not be forced to resign as his chief counsel.

"Cohn," he said, "is the most valuable man I ever had on my committee. I need him. He has a fine record handling Communist probes. He is hated more by the Communists than any man except J. Edgar Hoover."

"If Cohn should be forced to resign as a result of smear tactics, it would be a great victory for the Communists."

Aly, Gene Hope Too Marry Soon

ROSARITA BEACH, Mexico

(AP)—Actress Gene Tierney came from an afternoon hotel-suite breakfast with Aly Khan and said she hoped to marry the Moslem prince within six months in France.

The prince himself was nearby, swinging a child of another hotel guest and then sitting in the swing himself.

He took no part in the interview, standing on his remark: "I never discuss personal affairs."

The couple were reunited in their international romance when Miss Tierney arrived at the ornate Rosarita Beach Hotel, 17 miles south of the California border, Tuesday.

Gov. Robert Crosby's "Operation Honesty" was the theme of the annual University Club Gridiron Show staged for over 200 members at the club Tuesday night.

The governor was out of town and missed the event but Mayor Clark Jewry was among those present.

One of the most popular skits involved a meeting of automobile dealers trying to figure a way to sell more cars so they could go on longer vacations. Doctors of the city also received ribbing because of a recent plan to prevent fee-splitting practices.

A trio, Chauncey Barney, Joyce Ayres and George X. Smith introduced each act with a song. Emmett Junge was chairman and Robert Van Dervoort was in charge of production.

MacDonald To Head Truck Scale Operators

J. H. MacDonald, equipment engineer for the state highway department, was announced Tuesday as temporary superintendent of the civilian truck scale operators.

State Engineer L. N. Rens said MacDonald will choose the candidates for jobs at the scales, arrange the training course and make assignments. Later he will resume his duties and a supervisor will be selected from the personnel employed at the stations.

Minors' Age Fakes Cited At Hearing

Edward L. and Lucille G. Otoupalik, operators of a beer tavern at 109 So. 17th St., cited by the State Liquor Commission on charges of three sales to minors related how high school and college students use various means to conceal their true age, when minors.

A college youth told of buying forged naval identification cards for $5 while on a ship during a summer cruise. Others told of how identification cards are "loaned" and advantage taken of errors made in auto driver's licenses.

The commission in turn pointed out that all licensees have been advised of acceptable identification such as birth certificates, draft registration, etc.

In one of the three counts, the youth alleged to have purchased beer has since been fatally injured in an automobile accident.

After hearing of evidence, the commission took the charges against the Otoupaliks under advisement.

This is the first Lincoln case involving sale to minors to be heard by the commission. In the past the evidence obtained by state inspectors has been turned over to city officials for action.

In all other cities inspectors charges are brought direct before the commission.

Commission members said that no definite policy has been established as to whether all future violation charges by state inspectors will be brought before the commission rather than city officials.

Owner Of Car Omitted From Tax Rolls Must Pay Balance, Interest, Penalties

The Lancaster County Board of Equalization, in special session Tuesday, ordered that taxes, plus interest and penalties, be assessed against a 1949 automobile for the years it was not on the tax rolls.

The board had asked the Lincoln man to explain why he paid taxes on a 1947 instead of a 1949 model which he owned from 1949 to 1954.

An attorney appearing for the man explained that that man was told that the dealer would take care of title transfer when he traded his 1947 for a 1949 car. The man wasn't aware this transfer was done until a couple of months ago when he traded the 1949 for a new car.

The attorney said the man has no objection to paying his rightful taxes in explaining it was all an honest mistake.

In a discussion of the technicalities of placing the omitted property on the rolls, the board agreed to assess the man only

See why the trend is growing to the 1954 Lincoln

The facts are simple: Lincoln is the one fine car whose sales have more than doubled in two short years.

There are good reasons why this trend keeps growing. The great new Lincoln for 1954 is the most dramatic edition of the car that started the big change in American motorists' ideas about fine cars.

Take, for instance, Lincoln's new styling—from the stunning new grille to the crisp, new rear deck and distinctive new taillights. It is a completely new design—akin to the ground-hugging, functional look found wherever the living is modern. Note, too, how well Lincoln's new colors and fabrics go with Lincoln's new styling; dramatic new shades in nylons, gabardines, and leathers.

Above all you have incredible performance. Lincoln's world-famous V-8 engine has the new automatic 4-barrel carburetor—gives you superbly controlled action at all times. Add to all this the optional features—power steering, power brakes, the 4-way power seat and electric power window lifts—and driving becomes practically effortless. You'll know what we mean the moment you drive a wonderful new 1954 Lincoln or Lincoln Capri.

Performance proof: Lincoln again won 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th places over all stock cars in the 1,912-mile Mexican Pan-American Road Race.

Don't miss the big television hit, "TOAST OF THE TOWN" with Ed Sullivan. Sunday evening, 7:00 to 8:00. Station KMTV, Channel 2

U.S. H-Tests Vital To West's Defense, Churchill Says

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill asserted American H-bomb experiments in the Pacific were essential to free world defense. He spurned Laborite demands he use his influence to have them called off.

Churchill called the H-bomb the "greatest possible deterrent against the outbreak of World War III."

Seeking to calm the wave of anxiety raised here by the apparently limitless power unleashed in the Pacific tests, Churchill assured the house of commons U. S. scientists were in complete control of the awesome weapon.

Out Of Control

Published reports here had indicated that the first U. S. weapon, exploded March 1, had gotten out of control.

The prime minister revealed that British detection instruments recorded the explosion of a second weapon March 26. He let the House know, moreover, that he is in "almost hourly" communication with Washington on atomic and other problems.

Despite prodding from Labor Party leader Clement Attlee, Churchill refused to summon an immediate meeting of the Big Three on atomic and hydrogen weapons. But the statesman made clear he still hopes to meet with Soviet Premier Malenkov and President Eisenhower sometime in the future.

The prime minister told the House that not only did Britain have no power to stop the tests, but "I am sure that it would not be right or wise for us to ask that it should be stopped."

Help Essential

"When similar experiments were conducted by the Russians, I cannot remember that anyone suggested that such representations should be made to the Soviet Union."

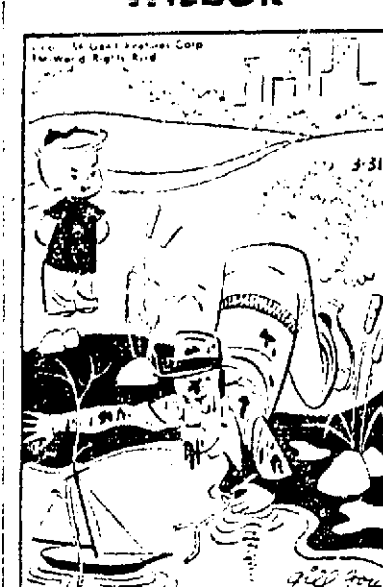

"The experiments which the Americans are now conducting in the Pacific are an essential part of the defense policy of a friendly power without whose massive strength and generous help Europe would be in mortal peril."

"We should indeed be doing a great disservice to the free world if we sought, in any way, to impede the progress of our American Allies in building up their overwhelming strength in the weapon which provides the greatest possible deterrent against the outbreak of World War III."

In the statement and the noisy question exchange that followed, Churchill came back again and again to this theme: America should have support, not criticism, from Britain on this subject.

Looking over his glasses at the

WILBUR

"Nice try, Dad."

Laborites seated opposite him, Churchill said Britain had very little first hand information on the tests, other than what her own scientific instruments provided, since American law prevents any exchanges on this subject between Washington and London.

Weather Ahead

Extended forecast for Nebraska:

Temperatures will average 10 to 15 degrees below normal, with cold through midweek, and slow warming trend thereafter. Normal highs are in the upper 50s, and normal lows range from the upper 20s in the west to the middle 30s in the south-east. Average precipitation 20 to 30 of an inch, occurring as snow Wednesday and Thursday, and rain or snow again likely during the week end.

NU Debaters Tie For Second Place

University of Nebraska debaters tied for second place with Kansas University in the annual Missouri Valley Debate Tournament held at Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge.

The Cornhusker teams have won the tournament the last two years.

The affirmative team, Wayne Johnson and Dale Johnson, both of Lincoln, won the highest quality rating for all teams entered in the contest. They received 29 of a possible 30 points.

Paul Laase and Jack Rogers, also both of Lincoln, arguing the negative case, were judged the highest quality negative team.

In addition to the debate honors, the University delegation won first and second places in the extemporaneous contest and placed fourth in the oratory division.

Wayne Johnson placed first in the extemporaneous division, Laase second, and Dale Johnson placed fourth in oratory.

The Louisiana tournament was the final trip of the current debate season for the Nebraskans.

Other schools participating included the universities of South Dakota, Oklahoma, Kansas, Texas (who won first), and Wichita, Kansas State and Louisiana State.

Wonderful, Wearable Washable Nylon Coats

$25

SOFT . . . as down, and it won't stretch out of shape.

LIGHT . . . lighter than wool yet warmer by far.

CLEAN . . . easy to keep neat; it sheds rain, snow and sleet.

EXCITING . . . beautiful, versatile and lasting; moth-proof and mildew-proof.

These fabulous Nylon fibers were fashioned by wizards of DuPont . . . placed into the poised hands of Princeton Knitting Mills where they were formed into fabrics lusher than the flamas of Lima, for the craftsmen of Rhapsody to design the expensive luxury of the age. Colors: coral, blue, pink or white. Sizes 10-18. . . .
